Manager Vote Seen Certain

1,157 Signers Required

Submit Names For Commission

Backers of the council-manager city government plan today were virtually assured that the issue will go on the Mansfield ballot at the November election.

Their confidence was boosted when City Solicitor C. J. Kalbfleisch ruled that only 1,157 valid signatures, instead of 1,800, are required on petitions requesting a referendum.

City council has voted to place the issue on the ballot if a check shows there are enough valid signers on the petitions.

The city solicitor said Ohio law requires signatures of only 10 per cent of the Mansfielders who voted at the last general municipal election.

At that election, held in 1947, there were 11,567 votes cast, Kalbfleisch said.

On the strength of the votes cast last year at the general election approximately 1,800 signatures would be required.

Meanwhile, Kalbfleisch said he would give the 98 petitions bearing 2,233 signatures to the board of elections today so it can check the validity of the signatures.

CHECKS NAMES

The board of elections will make certain all of the signers are registered voters

Meanwhile, the citizens' committee announced plans for the next meeting of the organization.

At that meeting, scheduled for 7:30 p. m. next Tuesday in the Chamber of Commerce assembly room, names will be submitted for a charter commission.

This commission, which will have 15 members, will draft a charter for Mansfield with provisions for a council-manager form of government if the proposal is approved at the election.

The commissioners will be up for election in November. However, if the issue. "Shall a commission be chosen to frame a charter" is defeated no charter commission will be formed.

J. C. Gorman is chairman of a committee to present names of persons willing to serve on the charter commission, Alvin O. Preyer, Citizens' committee chairman, said.

15 TOP NAMES CHOSEN

There is no limit to the number of persons who may aspire for election to the charter commission, Preyer said. The 15 candidates with the most votes will be elected, he added.

Petitions must be circulated for each person who seeks election. These petitions require signatures of only one per cent of the registered voters, Preyer explained.

After the charter is framed it will be presented to the voters for approval, probably at the 1950 election.

Taylor Heads Berlin Force

BERLIN — (AP) — Maj Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, wartime paratroop leader, officially was named today to command the American military government and army forces in Berlin.

He will be given this double-barreled authority, a former statement said, "in order to unify the United States position in Berlin."

The statement said he would assume his position at a date to be announced later, but presumably in September.

Taylor will succeed both Brig. Gen. Frank Howley, military government commandant, and Col. James T. Duke, who has commanded the Berlin military post.

The statement, issued by the headquarters of U. S. Army forces in Europe, said Taylor would be the personal representative of High Commissioner John J. McCloy and Lieut. General Clarence R. Heubner, acting commander-in-chief.

500 Die As Quake Strikes

QUITO, Ecuador —(UP)— Rescue workers reported today that 500 persons were killed and 3,000 injured in a violent series of earth tremors that shattered 30 cities and towns in the area some 70 miles south of Quito.

The city of Ambato, in the center of the quake area was one third destroyed. Officials reported 300 killed in Ambato alone, 60 in one church that collapsed.

The first tremor struck at 2 p. m. yesterday and was followed by 14 other long, slow earth waves, according to the Quito observatory. Experts said it was presumed that an entire range of the Andes mountains was collapsing.

WRECKS HIGHWAY

The quake destroyed sections of the Pan-American highway south of Quito, hindering rescue work, and caused a serious interruption in communications.

The government of President Galo Plaza Lasso ordered army rescue units organized to aid Red Cross teams. The rescue caravans were ordered to the disaster area but were delayed by the blocked roads.

The earthquake struck in a densely - populated agricultural region. It was the second in the Andes within two months. A quake in Chili killed 65 persons last June.

Most seriously damaged city next to Ambato was the summer resort town of Latacunga, 50 miles south of Quito. Twenty-seven were reported killed there. The towers of three churches collapsed and many houses were destroyed.

Latacunga, with a population of 15,000, lies at the base of Cotopaxi volcano. Another town in the same general area, Guano, was reported in complete ruin with streets blocked by rubble.

Boys Find Fake Stamps

NEW YORK — (AP) — A group of boys uncovered 2,000,000 bogus three-cent stamps in a Bronx lot yesterday, and secret service men linked the find to a jittery fake money ring.

The stamps, tied up in six bundles, were found by a half-dozen youths playing in an empty lot. Secret service men examined the stamps and linked them with the arrest Tuesday of an alleged counterfeiting ring leader.

Assistant U S Attorney Roy M Cohn said there was no question the stamps had been dumped in the lot by henchmen of the accused ring leader, Michael Maione.

Maione allegedly was east coast leader of a giant counterfeit outfit that has been flooding the seaboard states with phoney 10 and 20 dollar bills

Maione, 38, is being held in $50,000 bail for grand jury action

Maione's ring, it is alleged, passed $1,000,000 worth of bogus bills a year for a Chicago syndicate.

Call Hurried Contract OK

WASHINGTON — (UP) — One telephone call by John Maragon got a White House appointment for three Detroit businessmen whose $280,000 army contract was cleared almost immediately afterward, a Senate investigator said today.

Sen. Karl E. Mundt, R., S. D., said representatives of Austin Metal Products, incorporated told a Senate investigating subcommittee yesterday they talked with an army officer at the White House about a contract for some 10,000 vehicle windshields, after "mystery man" Maragon made the appointment.

The witnesses testified the contract had been cleared before they got back to Detroit, Mundt told reporters.

Crack Down On Lottery

Case Linked To Mansfield

Cleveland police today arrested one man in a crackdown on a baseball pool and lottery racket linked with operations in Mansfield and a number of other Ohio cities

Officers seized nearly a million lottery tickets.

Jailed was Carl Beach, 49, of Cleveland, described by Detective Lt. Martin B. Cooney as a main cog in distribution of the tickets in northern Ohio.

Papers found in a basement office in Beach's home indicated the tickets had been distributed from Cleveland to Toledo, Sandusky, Conneaut, Mansfield, Painesville and other Ohio cities, Cooney reported.

Sacks of cash estimated to contain $2,000 also were seized.

Police said some of the lottery tickets were labeled "Kriss-Kross" baseball pool, "Lucky Star" auto raffle and "Lake Erie" and "Pot-O-Gold" treasury games.

Baseball, pools are operated openly at a number of cafes and cigar stores in Mansfield without police interference.

Beach, a former express agency worker, was charged with possession of lottery tickets. He was fined $100 in municipal court here last year for possession of lottery tickets.

Mark Atom Anniversary

HIROSHIMA, Japan — (UP) — The city which four years ago this morning became a martyr of modern warfare appealed to President Truman today for a stronger united nations—a world government which will insure peace for all.

Three hundred thousand persons stood in bowed silence at 9·15 a. m. (7·15 p. m. Friday, EDT), the exact moment the atomic bomb dropped death on Hiroshima on Aug. 6, 1945.

Then the silence broke and a bell tolled. It was a ringing plea for peace among men

'St. Mary's of Snows'

Catholics Plan New City Parish

Purchase of the Newman school Friday by the St. Peter's Catholic church is the first step in the establishment of a parish for the northeast section of the city, according to an announcement by Msgr. R. C. Goebel, pastor of the Mansfield church.

Msgr. Goebel's announcement was confirmed this morning by Bishop Karl J. Alter of Toledo, who said the Newman school would be used as a combination church and school. Decision to establish a parish in the northeast section of Mansfield was made because at least 1,500 Catholics live in that part of the city, Bishop Alter said.

The school, purchased at auction yesterday, for $35,000 will be remodeled to suit the purposes of the new parish. However, Bishop Alter said that detailed plans will not be forthcoming until a new rector, whom he expects to appoint by Sept. 1, will have made recommendations.

"Our future plans will depend a great deal upon what the new pastor there finds and proposes for the parish," Bishop Alter said.

The new parish will be called St. Mary's of the Snows, because the school was purchased on the day which commemorates the great snowfall in Rome in the middle of August hundreds of years ago, Bishop Alter said

The school was purchased yesterday through Joseph Seibert, real estate agent here and a member of the St. Peter's Catholic church, who acted as mediary for Bishop Alter. The only other high bidder at Friday's auction was the Mansfield Tire and Rubber company, which offered $34,000

Strong Jap Army Urged

Says Move Would Stem Red Advance

COLUMBUS — (INS) — Gen. Robert L. Eichelberger declared today that the military defenses of Japan must be built up to stop communism in the Far East.

The former Eighth Army commander, now a consultant on the Far East to Army Secretary Gray, told the Ohio American Legion convention that Japan has been reduced to a "military pigmy." Eichelberger continued:

"So long as Russia does not control the island chain and particularly the main islands of Japan, the further advancement of the Reds is to a very large extend stymied.

"And if we can make sure that the Japanese are reasonably able to protect themselves after a peace treaty is concluded, the scales will be tipped the other way.

"That is why I consider Japan as the key to the entire Far Eastern situation at this time."

Eichelberger said many of the fruits of World War II victory have been wiped out, but contended that the communists will be unable to consolidate their gains in China without aid from the west He said:

"The Chinese are the small traders of the Far East. They will require international trade in order to live.

Business Gets 'Shot In Arm'

Board Frees More Cash For Bank Loans

WASHINGTON — (UP) — The government gave business today a new shot in the arm.

For the third time this year, the Federal Reserve board reduced reserve requirements of its member banks. The board said the action freed about $1,800,000,000, now tied up in reserved. for use in making loans.

The percentage of total deposits which federal reserve banks must keep on hand was cut by the order, issued late yesterday, to the lowest level since October, 1941.

Reserves on demand deposits were cut two per cent in all federal reserve banks. Those on time deposits were trimmed by half that amount.

Demand deposits include checking accounts and other money which the bank must expect to be withdrawn at a moment's notice by the depositor.

Time deposits are those such as savings accounts, where it is assumed the depositor will leave the money in the bank longer.

The federal reserve system has three classes of banks, and the requirements vary for each.

The largest are known as the Central City Reserve banks. These are in New York and Chicago only. Reserve city banks are those located at the headquarters of each of the eight other reserve districts.

The rest, without regard to size of towns in which they are located, are called "country banks."

Ask Big Boost In Gas Rate

Raise Won't Hit Mansfield

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Ohio Fuel Gas company, Columbus, has applied for one of the largest rate increases ever proposed to the Power commission by a gas utility company, the commission said today.

The company proposed a tariff change for wholesale service. This, the commission said, would amount to a rate increase of about $1,228,568 a year based on anticipated sales for the 12-month period ending Feb. 28, 1950.

(Granting of the proposed rate increase would have no effect in Mansfield, according to G. K. Schooler, district manager of the Ohio Fuel Gas company here. Schooler said the proposal applies only to wholesale outlets and that all customers of Ohio Fuel Gas in Mansfield are retail consumers.)

Ohio Fuel said the proposed increase amounts to about 4.2 cents a thousand cubic feet.

The company said the increase is necessary because unprecedented postwar demands have required changes in the sources of gas and have necessitated large purchases of natural gas from the southwest.

CITES COSTS

It said this has required a production and transmission facilities investment of about $25,000,000, and the cost of gas purchased has increased about 3 cents a thousand cubic feet.

Substantial increases in labor and material costs have been experienced, the company added.

The Ohio Fuel asked authority to make the new rate effective Sept. 6.

The proposed rate would increase costs to the three largest purchasers by these estimated figures: $682,712 for Dayton Power and Light company, $283,199 for Cincinnati Gas and Electric company, and $122,916 for West Ohio Gas company.

Ohio Fuel is a member of the Columbia gas system.

Roscoe Gets Away Again, Breaks Leg

ASHLAND — Roscoe did it again!

A second dash for freedom by Stanley Phillips' new pet monkey who had just been recaptured after a four-day hunt, had a near fatal ending Friday night when Roscoe encountered with a truck.

No match for a truck, Roscoe wound up with a broken left leg, a bad cut over one eye and a very low opinion of this so-called civilization.

Ashland police were called at 6 30 p. m. Friday by Paul Gray, truck driver, who said his truck had knocked down a small monkey which was being chased by some boys on Union street.

Roscoe's owner took the injured animal to a veterinary for medical aid

Chiefs Continue Secret Parleys

PARIS — (INS) — The U S chiefs of staff ended a series of "successful" and secret North Atlantic Defense pact talks in Paris today and then announced a 12-nation political conference will be held in Washington later this month.

The American staff leaders met for an hour each this morning with Belgian, Dutch and Portuguese military representatives Little light was shed on the details of these talks or previous ones with the other pact members.

Gov. Dewey Spurns Senatorial Race

ALBANY, N. Y. — (INS) — Gov. Thomas E. Dewey has definitely bowed out of running for the U. S. Senate this fall.

The governor, through a close associate, has said flatly he will not run. It is strongly indicated the governor wants John Foster Dulles, his interim appointee now representing New York in the Senate, as the nominee for election Nov. 8.

Disgruntled Suitor Flips Explosives

ZAMBOANGA, Philippines—(INS)—A jilted Filipino suitor broke up his former sweetheart's wedding celebration today by hurling a stick of dynamite into the home of the bridegroom.

The blast injured nine persons, including the bride, but the groom escaped without a scratch.

The bride's injuries were serious.

Legislators Divided On China Issue

Lawmakers Blast Failure of U. S.

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Congress found itself about as divided as China today on what to do about stopping the advance of communism in Asia.

The State department's white paper explaining why Chiang Kai Shek's government failed to keep the communists from gobbling up most of China was greeted on capitol hill by a volley of criticism from lawmakers who called it a confession of American failure also.

Among the members of congress there was a meeting of minds on one point — something ought to be done to keep all of China from being over-run by supporters of the Red banner, who might then threaten China's neighbors.'

But there was no agreement on a program.

Senator Bridges (R-NH), long-time critic of the administration's policies toward Asia, offered a three point program:

"1. Pat the nationalist government on the back instead of kicking it in the face; 2. Give assurance that this country doesn't intend to recognize the communist government of China; 3. Furnish small arms and ammunition to the anti-communist forces still willing to fight."

Senator Magnuson (D-Wash) suggested that if some of the personalities could be eliminated from the nationalist government it could serve as a framework to unify a fight against the communists. There was no doubt he was suggesting that Chinag Kai Shek — severely criticized in the state department report — make his exit.

Senator Knowland (R-Calif) scolded the department for what he said was an effort stretching over a period of years to force Chiang's government to take in communists.

Bridges charged that the white paper "is a complete effort of the State department to scuttle the nationalist government and anti-communist forces in China, adding:

"It is clear to anyone who has followed the situation that the Chinese war was lost in Washington and not in China."

OK Bill To Seize Docks

HONOLULU (AP) — Hawaii's legislature today passed a bill empowering the territorial government to seize the islands' strikebound docks. Earlier striking CIO stevedores voted unanimously to refuse to work for the government.

Final passage of the legislation designed to end the 98-day water-front tieup came in the 10th day of a special session called by Gov. Ingram M Stainback.

Late last night Senate and House conferees agreed on the measure which directs the governor to take over the islands' seven struck stevedoring firms.

It also calls for hiring, as far as possible, the 2,000 striking members of the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's union at the pre-strike $1.40 hourly wage.

The House approved the conference report by a 24 to 6 vote. The Senate's approval was unanimous — 14 to 0.

Officials Open New Probe

6-Month-Old Infant Stricken

An intestinal disease today killed the fifth child in a month in suburban districts north of Mansfield.

City-county health officials began an investigation of the death of Mary Elizabeth Twyman, six-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Twyman of Reformatory road.

The four other children died in the Country Club Allotment west of the Reformatory road area.

The Twyman child's death was reported to the sheriff's office at 1:20 a. m. today. The infant had been ill only about 24 hours, according to the sheriff.

The Twyman child is survived by the parents; five brothers, Albert jr., Harry, Bill, Paul Bernard and Robert; six sisters, Lela Pearl, Ida Mary, Margaret Helen, Dorothy Ann, Virgia Lee and Lillie Mae, and her grandmothers, Mrs. Mary Brackings of Columbus and Mrs. Pearl Graves of Edison.

Funeral services will be held at the Geiger funeral home at 2 p. m. Monday with burial in the Mansfield cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home.

Health department authorities said two other young children are at General hospital suffering from severe attacks of the malady.

They are Larry Gerhart, four weeks old, of 188 North Main street, and Carol Critchfield, six weeks old, of 227 Lenox avenue, which is in the Country Club allotment.

HUNT CAUSE

Following an epidemic of diarrheal disease at Country Club Allotment No. 3, local and state health authorities scoured the area in search for the cause of the outbreak.

It was estimated one-third of the community's population contracted the disease.

All water supplies were checked and the unsafe wells were posted. The area was sprayed with DDT to reduce the fly population and the health department announced it had "temporarily" solved the problem.

However, health authorities warned a recurrence could be expected at any time as long as unsanitary conditions exist in the suburban areas.

It was estimated 10,000 persons live in a fringe around the city of Mansfield without adequate water supply or sewage disposal systems.

Inadequate water and sewage disposal was blamed by health officials as one of the major causes for such outbreaks by the health department.

Ford Fights Strike Vote

DETROIT — (UP) — The Ford Motor company today was reported planning to appeal to the state supreme court to halt next Monday's election in which three-fourths of its 106,000 production workers will decide whether they want to strike.

Reliable sources said the company would ask the high court to postpone the balloting of Michigan workers because the state labor mediation board ruled that the vote in two key plants be held outside company property.

The amended state Bonine-Tripp Labor act provided a company owned site unless a fair election cannot be held there.

A spokesman for the company, which yesterday climaxed angry word warfare with the CIO United Auto Workers by revising its settlement proposal, declined to comment on the reports.

Ford countered the UAW's economic demands by proposing a 12-month freeze of wages and economic provisions of the present contract and an 18-month continuation of other provisions, from July 15, its expiration date.

UAW President Walter P. Reuther immediately rejected the proposal and replied angrily to charges by Ford industrial relations chief John S. Bugas that he and other union leaders had made "calculated misstatements."

Large French Army Essential To Peace

When General Marshall was asked how long the United States might have to furnish military aid, he replied "at a guess" that two or three years might suffice. This guess throws more light on the whole subject than Congress and the public have yet had from anyone else.

For it is evident that in the next two or three, or even in the next five, years only a small army can be recruited, trained, and equipped in Western Europe. As a matter of fact there is only one European country in the Atlantic alliance which can raise a fair-sized army. That country is France.

Today France has one armored division equipped, says Hanson Baldwin, who knows what he is talking about, with obsolescent material. It is plain that in two or three years, the best that can be done with any appropriations that Congress would vote or that the French government could use, without disrupting the whole French economy, is to develop a few but not many more armored divisions with reasonably modern equipment.

There are cogent reasons why we should promptly and effectively support the creation of this small French army within the framework of the Atlantic pact.

The real reason why we should create a small French army as the core of a Western European force, is not in order to match the inexhaustible ground armies of the Soviet Union. There is no use pretending that France can do what Germany, at the zenith of its military power, was unable to do.

Even the modest army, which General Marshall's guess shows is all that he contemplates, will take some years to re-create. During those years the Soviet Union can create at least five divisions to each one that Western Europe can create.

It would, therefore, be a dangerous miscalculation to inaugurate a race of armaments between the ground forces of the Soviet orbit and of Western Europe.

The forces that can be created in Western Europe will be small and will take years to develop. That means that during this period war has to be prevented in order that there may be time to develop those forces. There is little reason to think that this time can be secured if the rearmament of Western Europe is treated as a race of armaments with the Red Army.

Since the Soviet Union has an enormous head start in the race, we must not expect it to remain passive while Western Europe catches up in ground forces and while the American atomic stockpile and long range strategic bombardment is built up for a knockout blow.

Therefore, if the case for military aid is argued on the present briefings, the Atlantic allies would be pursuing a policy which combined inadequate forces for actual war with the maximum provocation to war.

The true case for European rearmament is one that has not yet been stated publicly. It is that considerably larger forces are needed in France in order to prepare for a German settlement. The time is coming when the Russian and the American armies must withdraw from Germany.

The time is coming within a few years. When the occupying armies withdraw, the Germans will have to be allowed a military force, subject to treaty limitations, but nevertheless a force. When that time comes, it is essential to the peace of Europe that there should exist a French army sufficiently large to enforce the German treaty and to contain the German military revival.

The forces, which are contemplated, are limited; the time required to create them is many years. The scale and the tempo of the whole program makes sense if the program is designed to stabilize Western Europe internally against revolution and externally in relation to a reviving and turbulent Germany when the military occupation ends.

The program makes no sense if it is supposed to create ground armies in a race with the Red Army.

The defense of Western Europe against the Red army rests now, and will continue to rest, not on the military aid program but on the American guarantee which is affirmed and registered in the Atlantic Pact.

The American guarantee should be, if our diplomacy is wise and resourceful, an adequate defense. If the American guarantee is not adequate, the small force that Western Europe can create will not make it adequate.

Stoneburners Visit Bowery On Vacation

Digressing a bit from the usual summer vacation, Rev. and Mrs. Charles W. Stoneburner spent a week near the Bowery in New York City where they were guests of their son, Tony Stoneburner, former John Simpson Junior high teacher here.

The younger Stoneburner, who is in his second year at the Drew Theological Seminary at Madison, N. J., preparatory to the ministry, is superintendent of the Five-Points Mission in New York during the summer months.

Five-Points Mission is a famed welfare institution where social service work is carried on in an extensive scale. The younger Stoneburner has an apartment near the mission and it was there that his parents spent the week.

Rev. and Mrs. Stoneburner spent the rest of their vacation on a farm in southern Ohio.

Turks Puzzled By U. S. Race Question

ANKARA, Turkey—"We love America but are bewildered by the contradiction of her professed ideals of human freedom and of her treatment of the Negro," a distinguished Italian said to us. At Istanbul an alert and very intelligent corps of newspapermen showed unmistakably to Mrs. Edith Sampson, of the National Council of Negro Women, and me that the one American problem above all others on which they wished information was the race question.

Here in Ankara we were told of the Turkish school girl during the war who was asked by her teacher what she considered the most cruel and fitting punishment for Hitler. The girl is reputed to have replied, "Darken his skin and force him to live among the Americans."

A few days ago during a seminar on "Democracy and Education," the most earnestly asked question was, "What are you Americans doing to implement the International Human Rights charter?" The questioner was too polite to mention lynching and filibusters in the U. S. but none of the Americans on the 'Round the World Town Meeting of the Air was unaware of what he meant. The Istanbul Vatan publishes a lengthy article by its New York correspondent on the Negro question, characterizing it as the "number one problem of the U. S." A brilliant woman educator today looked meaningfully at us as she told how discrimination and segregation because of race and sex is totally unknown in Turkey under the new constitution as adopted during the rule of Ataturk.

In London, Paris, Berlin and Vienna the same piercing enquiry was directed at the American seminar. Ambassador George Wadsworth told me during a garden party at the embassy residence that "The race question in America is the number one question fired at me wherever I go."

Gillespie S. Evans, Chief of the U. S. Information Service here, tells me that in Egypt, from which country he was recently transferred to Turkey, he was constantly asked how the U. S. can aspire to world moral leadership as long as she permits Negroes and other minorities to be mistreated in the U. S.

Part of this attitude (and many times as many examples could be cited) is due, of course, to the assiduous broadcasting by Moscow radio of minute details of every real or alleged violation of civil rights and human liberties in the U. S. As the bomber flies, Moscow is only half a thousand miles away from where I sit and write on the balcony of the Park Palas Hotel. Although the communist party is banned in Turkey its agents are active here, along with Moscow radio, in doing all in their power to discredit the U. S. and the race question in America is one of their most effective arguments.

Town Hall and its seminar members are meeting the issue frankly in the only manner in which it can be met. We admit freely that there are some major flaws in the implementation of democracy back home. We would be foolish to deny that there are lynchings and floggings by the Ku Klux Klan because every instance of such crimes is made known over here as soon as it is in America.

But, we add, there is a rapidly mounting body of public opinion in the U. S. against bigotry as is evidenced by support of the recommendations of the President's Committee on Civil Rights.

But there are two things we devoutly wish were true. One is that folks back home would wake up to the fact that permitting bigots to ply their evil trade is doing more to weaken and harm America's position abroad than any other one thing.

The other thing we wish is that Senators Russell, Ellender and Wherry were here to answer the questions about the filibuster against passage of the Civil Rights program which took place so soon after we joined 47 other nations at Paris in signing the International Declaration of Human Rights!

CE Group To Attend Camp

Between 50 and 75 Christian Endeavor members from Richland county will gather at Camp Otyokwah, near Butler, for a Christian retreat and conference on Aug. 19, 20, and 21.

Although Mansfield has no active society now, it has an alumni, comprised of members who formerly belonged to societies here.

Miss Geneva Craig, of the First Presbyterian church, where the Christian Endeavor society has been superceded by the Westminister Guild, is a member of the state board and one of the active alumni members here. Miss Emma Beck also is a Mansfield member still active in the work of the society.

Christian Endeavor societies from Shenandoah, Ganges, Plymouth, Shelby, Lexington, Bellville and Mansfield alumni will join in the retreat to be directed by Miss Hazel Mitchell of Shelby, president of the Richland county society.

Other officers who will assist in arrangements include Miss Mary Brook of Ganges, vice president; Miss Helen Metzer of Lexington, secretary, and Harold Sams, Plymouth, treasurer.

The program for the retreat will consist of fun, fellowship and inspiration, according to plans announced by the officers. Friday night, Aug. 19, there is to be a big campfire in charge of Rev. I. Z. Sullivan of Shelby, with conferences, recreation periods and vesper services for Saturday. Miss Craig will head a conference on "Christian Endeavor Fundamentals."

Sunday morning worship will be in charge of David Yohn, who is taking a pre-ministry course at Otterbein college, Westerville.

A consecration service and typical CE meeting will close the conference Sunday night.

Meals and lodging will cost each member $4, both to be provided in the cabins and administration buildings at the camp.

Arrange 6th Vesper Rite

Rev. Charles W. Stoneburner, pastor, and choir members of the First Methodist church will have charge of the sixth vesper service Sunday at 7 p. m. in South park.

The service, sponsored weekly by the Mansfield Ministerial association, has an average attendance each Sunday night of between three and four hundred.

Tomorrow night Rev. Stoneburner will preach on the theme, "One People of God", stressing the all-embracing movement and spirit among the various denominations and branches of the Christian church throughout the world.

The choir of the church, directed by Mrs. Edwin Cooper, will sing "A Song in the Night," by Woodman, with Dr. Ralph Wadsworth and Miss Betty Gorsuch as soloists. Kenneth Erb will sing as a solo, DeRose's "I Heard a Forest Praying."

Mrs. Willis Naas, who will play the electric organ, has chosen Bach's "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring," "Star of Evening", by Smith, and "Postlude March," by Best.

WANTS CITY TAX

CANTON — (AP) — Mayor Carl F. Klein says he will bring the issue of a city income tax before city council for detailed discussion by mid-September.

Tells of 'Slave Camp'

BERLIN — (AP) — The Sachsenhausen concentration camp near Berlin is being used as a depot to provide Soviet Russia slave laborers, Mrs. Erika Raeder asserts.

The wife of the former German Grand Admiral was released from the camp a month ago after four years as a prisoner of the Russians and now is in western Germany.

"Every two months big transports of people who were being punished for something left Sachsenhausen for Russia," she said in an interview.

"There were usually 2,000 people to each transport. They were not all Germans, either. A large number of them were Russians who had broken some rule.

"It was enough for a Russian to fall in love with a German girl. He would be on the same transport with the Germans.

"The people were stripped naked. Each was branded on the buttocks with a special type of indelible tatooing.

"Certain people returned from these transports and told us that if branded persons were caught away from the camp they had been assigned to, they were shot."

The admiral's wife is 61. Raeder is serving a life term on a war crimes charge in the four-power Spandau prison here.

When the Russians captured Raeder in June, 1945, they took him and Mrs. Raeder to Moscow.

"We were treated very well there for about three months," she said. "We lived in a small cottage and were free to move around. However, we had no rubles and could not pay a taxi fare into the central part of the city.

"We were served caviar three times a day.

"One day, the Russians officers told me roughly that my husband was a war criminal and would be tried at Nuernberg. From that minute on, I was a prisoner and treated very badly.

"I demanded to go to Berlin and they told me to shut up. I insisted on seeing the American ambassador. Oddly enough, they decided I could go to Berlin. The trip was made by plane, but we stopped in Minsk with some engine trouble."

Back in Germany, she was shuttled from one secret police jail to another until she wound up in Sachsenhausen, an infamous camp established by Hitler's SS but continued in operation after the war by the Soviet military administration.

PLEADS INNOCENT

LORAIN — (AP) — After 52 previous arrests, mostly on gambling charges, Peter Recznik, 56, entered a plea of innocent yesterday on a new charge of operating a place to record wagers.

Witty Book On Europe Heads List

Library Featuring Gloom-Chaser

William Atwood's popular non-fiction volume, THE MAN WHO COULD GROW HAIR OR INSIDE ANDORRA heads the new list of interesting books at the Mansfield Public library.

Atwood's book is a gloom-chaser, and designed to eliminate any notion that everything in Europe is tragic. Atwood has hunted for the funny side of post-war Europe and in his book, he tells it hilariously and with entertaining wit.

Atwood was in Mansfield recently to autograph his books at the Book Shop.

Among the non-fiction books of interest is THE DOCTOR WEARS THREE FACES, a story of a physician's life as told by his wife. Writing with warmth and humor, the doctor's wife describes their difficulties and disappointments as well as their happier experiences.

OUR ALASKAN WINTER, by the Helmericks, intrepid young couple who braved the rigors of winter in the far north to learn of the Eskimos and their way of living. The book contains many tales of fishing and big game hunting that should prove interesting to sportsmen as well as others

STUDY OF BIRDS

BIRDS OVER AMERICA, by Roger Tory Peterson, is a study of birds in all parts of the United States. The book includes 80 pages of photographs by the author.

Other non-fiction:

LAUGHTER IN THE NEXT ROOM, by Sitwell;

BEGINNING OF CHRISTIANITY, by Craig.

SPECTACULAR SAN FRANCISCANS, by Altrocchi.

DYKE'S AUTOMOBILE AND GASOLINE ENGINE ENCYCLOPEDIA, by Dyke.

JOURNALS AND LETTERS OF THE LITTLE LOCKSMITH, by Hathaway.

JESSE JAMES WAS MY NEIGHBOR, by Croy.

Fiction:

BEULAH LAND, by H. L. Davis, recounts the perilous journey of Ewen Warne, forced to flee for his life from his quiet North Carolina mountain home to the Indian territory. Here is an exciting historical novel of Indians and frontier life during the first year of the Civil War.

THE MUDLARK, by Theodore Bonnet, is the delightful story of a little London ragamuffin in the reign of Queen Victoria who slipped past the palace guards into the dining room of the queen herself. There he was discovered by the great Disraeli—and then Scotland Yard went into action. Though only a ragged urchin, the boy altered the life of a queen and changed the destiny of her empire.

ALIEN LAND, by William Savoy, is a novel of father and son who have an imperceptible trace of Negro blood and who choose to solve their problem each in his own way. Charles Roberts, the father, takes a stand as champion of his race, while his son, Kern, prefers to pass as a white. Filled with strong passions, great wrongs, and ancient hatreds, this book presents a bitterly real story but one that is redeemed by an even greater love.

Other fiction:

THE HEART HAS REASONS, by Sturges-Jones; OVER THE GARDEN WALL, by Carnac; CASE OF THE LITTLE DOCTOR, by Lewis.

Student Finds Dad Spurns Homework

BOWLING GREEN — (AP) — A lot of poor gags to the contrary, Dad doesn't do Junior's homework — at least not around Findlay in Hancock county. That was the finding of John E. Henning, Mount Blanchard, who made the study while working for the master's degree in education he received from Bowling Green State university yesterday.

KEEP CLEAN, AVOID DIRTY WATER—Garbage cans should be kept tightly closed and surrounding area clean. If disposal facilities are lacking garbage should be burned. Keep food tightly covered and safe from flies and insects which might carry virus. Polluted waters and places marked "No Swimming" should be especially avoided. It is safest to use only authorized beaches and public pools declared safe by health officials.

KEEP OUT OF CROWDS—Tennis is one good sport to enjoy during the summer because it does not involve close contact with other people. It is wise to stop playing before you get overtired. The injunction to avoid fatigue and crowds applies to work, although it is more difficult to adjust work schedules.

Tips On Avoiding Disease

Common Sense Helps Defeat Polio

By H. W. BLAKESLEE
(Second In a Series)

NEW YORK — (AP) — There is no known way to keep from getting polio — infantile paralysis — but there are a lot of things you can do that might help.

The trouble is that no one knows how the invisible protein particles, the viruses which cause the disease, are carried from person to person. They are small enough to float in air, or to be carried on, in or by anything whatever.

Millions of dollars have been spent vainly trying to learn how this virus travels. If you suspect, for example, that the virus is in a bit of food, it takes nearly a month and perhaps $500 to make sure. And then another month to learn whether the virus moved to some other suspected place.

HUMANS ARE CARRIERS

Many facts have been learned. And common sense fills in the gaps.

Human beings certainly carry the virus while they are sick. They almost certainly get it in what goes into their mouths. Their throats contain the virus when they are ill.

If that were all, the breaking of the polio chain would be easier. But now comes the hard part. You, the mother of a family, can have this disease, without being sick, and without a chance to know you have it.

And you can give it to your child, or the child of your dearest friend. That child may become paralyzed. Other children will get it, but may show nothing. Yet they too can spread it.

The medical consensus now is that polio probably spreads from persons to person, aided by something still unknown. This unknown leaves the home apparently the most dangerous place for spreading polio. Worse than schools and gatherings, because you cannot close homes. And even if you could, the family carrying the disease might not be indentified because its members appeared well.

You and your children are likely to have polio virus in your systems during an epidemic. That leads to some of the things you can do.

Keep out of crowds. That lowers the odds a little.

Don't get chilled. Chilling has a technical meaning here. It is lowering your body temperature to the point where natural body chemical reactions slow down. With this much chilling, polio infection already present, gets a better chance to start. Nobody, however, can tell why most of the polio comes in warm summertime. In chill winter there also is considerable polio, but no epidemics.

Don't get fatigued. Fatigue lowers your body's resistance too. There is an added reason for avoiding fatigue. Over-exertion is supposed to do its worst damage during the early stages of polio. But your child can be in that stage without anyone knowing it.

Keep clean. Obviously hands, toys, anything in the house can harbor polio virus. At this point comes another contradiction, in the finding that places with the best sanitation sometimes have the worst polio outbreaks. There is probably a special reason, and it is safe to stick by cleanliness.

Stay out of polluted swimming waters. The reason is the verified fact that sewage has polio virus in an epidemic area. Outbreaks have been followed through sewage trails nearly 100 miles long. There is a chilling hazard too in swimming.

Swat flies. It is verified that they carry polio virus. But don't worry too much — remembering that many thousands of dollars worth of search have failed to trace a single case of human polio to flies. Mosquitoes and most any other human bug pest are under slight suspicion.

Watch headaches, sore throats, nausea, fevers, obscure pains and stiffness. That is the way a polio attack may start. To be sure the watching won't prevent polio, but this watchfulness might catch those precious early hours of the illness, and really prevent some crippling.

And be glad that now there is very much that you can do if your child gets polio as tomorrow's story will explain.

Mansfield News-Journal
AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER

Drive carefully tonight and tomorrow—and mention this idea to the young folks.

It could scarcely be escaped, under the circumstances, so the comment is passing around: "Virginia's Byrd is still flying high."

The question arises, in the event Judge Medina doesn't last through the trial of those eleven communists in New York, must the whole thing start all over again?

That Baffling Chinese Puzzle

IF IT WAS the aim of the state department to reassure the American public regarding the government's policy in the Orient yesterday, when the 1,000-page "white paper" was issued, that purpose has not been achieved.

First of all, the paper presents the people of this nation with a series of accomplished facts—and mostly tragic facts, at that. Principally, the statement takes official cognizance that Russian-puppet communists have overrun China and are in position to threaten China's neighbors with aggression.

To counter this gloomy situation, Secretary Acheson offers only the suggestions that we encourage the Chinese to revolt against the invaders they could not keep out, and that if the aggression spreads we go to the United Nations with the problem.

Certainly the whole terrible tangle of the Far East should have been on the ironing board of the United Nations long ago. But, as every school child knows, the United Nations to date has been virtually powerless to reach a decision on a controversial issue or to enforce any such decision, once it was reached.

Mr. Acheson does not say how we are to foster the Chinese revolt.

The administration is opposed to aid to the Nationalist government for very good and obvious reasons. Much of the billions of American taxpayers' money that was sent to China in arms, supplies, and cash has been taken over by the communists to use against the Chinese themselves. In other words, the "white paper" makes clear that by our fumbling we have helped the Russians instead of the Chinese!

Nor is there any assurance in this voluminous document that the American public is going to be given any more chance to weigh, or even be told about, our foreign policy than it has in the past.

Not even members of Congress were permitted to see the much-discussed report of Lt. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer until yesterday. Gen. Wedemeyer recommended aid to China if Chiang Kai-Shek cleaned house and if Manchuria were put in a position where it could not be used as a springboard for invasion of China.

Chiang obviously did not clean house. Nothing was done about Manchuria and the Russians used it as a springboard to capture our supplies.

It is high time that secret diplomacy such as was practiced at Yalta, Tehran, Potsdam, and in relations with China, come to an end. The American people have a right to determine what our foreign policy shall be. Issuing "white papers" after the damage has been done may be an historical practice, but it is a refuge of feudalism, monarchy, and dictatorship. It has no part in the operation of a modern republic.

Herbert Hoover Anniversary Near

NEXT WEDNESDAY, August 10, will be the 75th birthday anniversary of Herbert Hoover, only living ex-president, whose record of capable and unselfish public service has been such as to ensure him a high place among great Americans.

Last year, on his 74th anniversary, friends and admirers provided approximately $100,000 for the Hoover Library of War, Revolution and Peace, at Stanford University. This project, founded by Mr. Hoover and largely supported by him, reflects the ex-president's deep interest in efforts to find a formula by which the peoples of the world may live free from the terrors and burdens of war.

A movement has been started this year to stimulate further contributions to the Hoover library, this being headed by Palmer Hoyt, publisher of the Denver Post, who reminds that the approaching anniversary is a suitable time for citizens to show appreciation of Mr. Hoover's distinguished public service and at the same time aid a worthy cause.

Belgium Achieves Prosperity

BELGIANS say it is due to hard work. Other Europeans lay it all to luck. But whatever the reason, Belgium is enjoying a period of record-breaking prosperity. The financial basis of this state of well-being is that last year Belgium exported four million dollars' worth more goods than was imported. After paying two million to cover its dollar deficit, Belgium is still well in the black.

Evidences of this flourishing state are seen in large stocks of local and imported goods in the stores, crowded places of amusement, and well-dressed crowds of people. The roads are full of American cars.

It is indubitably true that the Belgians are a hard-working people, and equally true that they retain all of their colonies intact and have ores and minerals to offer for foreign trade. But many things besides luck and hard work enter into the picture. Belgium's small size, the character of the population, and the calm political climate all are factors.

Some leveling off may take place as other countries provide more active competition, but this lowland country is likely to enjoy continued prosperity, barring another war.

Unsafe Autos On Highways

THE UNSAFE cars driven by Ohio motorists may be as many as one-sixth of the total, if state highway patrol figures are correct. The patrol has been checking cars for faulty headlights, tail lights, stop lights, horns, windshield wipers and brakes. This hasty survey does not take count of more serious defects, such as weak steering gears, for instance.

It is likely that a similar prevalence of death-trap cars would be found by a survey in any state which does not enforce an effective periodic inspection. Such an inspection is of great value in weeding unsafe vehicles out of traffic.

Doubtful Arguments In Nathan Report

THREE years ago, this column had a good deal to say about a group of economic researchers known as the Robert R. Nathan Associates. The head of this organization is Robert R. Nathan, well-known New Deal economist of a few years back.

Three years ago the associates tried to prove that union labor could be given some 22 cents to a 35 cents an hour increase in wages without increasing prices. These figures were widely used in the subsequent drives for higher wages. Well, the increases same through all right, by every American knows what happened to prices.

Now the Nathan people are more cautious. They tell even the CIO that wage increases are not possible everywhere, but that if "expanding markets" can be produced, selective wage increases can be given without endangering the price level.

This would seem to the layman like saying that, while wage increases are not possible now, they would be if there were more business, more profits and more money for wages. The fact is that markets are not expanding, and it will take more than the wishes of a few economists to make them expand.

In a new report, buttressed by an elaborate set of figures, the Nathan Associates review that old shipping boy of labor and the New Deal, the steel indsutry, and conclude in a headline that "profits show phenomenal rise in postwar years."

This report has apparently been made for consideration in current bargaining in the steel industry. It is quite evident that the conclusion is that very substantial wage increases can be made without endangering the companies and without raising steel prices.

* * *

Misleading Statements.

IF THESE figures and conclusions are accepted by the President's mediation board, which was appointed in by-passing the Taft-Hartley Act, we may expect a decision favorable to the CIO and another inflationary shot in the arm.

The report tries to show that reduction in the prices of the materials used by the industry duing the past six months would, even with operations at 70 per cent of capacity, justify an increase in wages of 30 cents an hour.

This assumption, however, is not a valid justification for higher wages, because apparently since the Nathan report was written, there has been a stiffening in the raw materials in question, which would not justify the wage increase.

Another exciting part of the Nathan report is especially misleading. It says that, in terms of prices in 1939, the return to the steel worker last year was 108 per cent and to the investor, 208 per cent.

The trouble with this sort of comparison is that replacements must be paid from so-called profits and that a mill costing $1,000,000 in 1939 would cost twice as much today.

The shareholder, therefore, gets no more of an increase than the worker, which of course explains the low dividend rate of the industry in a period of high business activity.

If, as is quite possible, the Truman administration takes such figures as these as a basis of argument, it will have to deny the validity of its argument of a few months ago, when it threatened the industry with government competition if it did not expand its plant.

It claimed then that the industry was not turning out enough steel. Now it may complain that the money spent or to be spent for expansion should be paid out in wages.

Washington Calling

Anxious To Go Home

By MARQUIS CHILDS

THE SENATOR from the West remarked plaintively that he had talked to his wife on the long-distance phone and she reported that they had had a fire in the fireplace every night for the past week. Sometimes, she told her suffering husband, it was so cool in the late afternoon they had to light the fire before supper.

You can begin to see the symptoms developing. The woman and children have gone to be cool by a lake or on a mountain. The senator is lonely. He feels put upon and, above all, he is hot.

He begins to wonder why Congress should still be in session in the dog days. Nothing but a lot of talk anyway, and he's pretty tired of it.

It is a little like the tremor that runs through a herd of cattle just before the stampede. They want out. One of the sure signs is that in the speculation over adjournment the date is now being moved forward. September 1 is most frequently given now. Whereas two or three weeks ago no one hoped to get away until after Labor day.

Under the La Follette-Monroney reorganization act a timetable was worked out. All the deadlines have been ignored, including the date for adjournment which was put at July 31.

In the last-minute rush vital legislation will be scanted or passed over. Appropriation bills jammed through are likely to contain jokers that may seriously impair efficiency or even just normal government operation.

For the lobbyists and special-interest boys it is kind of witches' carnival. Under cover of the confusion anything can happen and it usually does. In short, it's a hell of a way to run a railroad!

Have Worried Feeling.

GEOGRAPHY, politics and climate are all intermingled as the session wears on into August, with the ordinary citizen either about to go on a vacation or just back with a new tan. One reason for the restlessness at this stage is that the congressman begins to get an uneasy feeling about what is happening back home.

He has been in Washington for seven months. While the scheduled airlines with their big new planes make home a lot closer, still it is an expensive trip and it does take time.

The congressman has had word that his opponent - to - be in the election next year is already out making speeches and cultivating friends. The mail is mostly full of complaints. What are people really thinking? How is he regarded? The congressman wants to go home and find out.

Freshmen members are especially plagued with this feeling of doubt and uncertainty. Washington, which happens to be on the eastern seaboard and a long way from most places, generates it own isolationism.

I listened to Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota, one of the freshmen who has made himself heard at this session, talk informally about a remedy. What he suggested was that Congress, during a session of ordinary length, should take at least three or four week-long recesses.

During those recesses members of Congress could go back home with their fare each way paid by congressional appropriation.

Congress will meet in January in the atmosphere of an election year. Then the pressure to get away, to postpone, to delay will be even greater.

As Cerf Tells It

A California picture exhibitor installed a wishing well in the lobby to amuse children who were waiting to get in. He hastily removed it after the first day, however, when an irate adult strode out of the theater, dropped a penny in the wishing well, and said very loudly, "I wish I hadn't seen the picture they're running here this week."

Dave Boone Says:

IT SEEMS incredible but, according to the returns, a man who has always stood against extravagance in government spending and for a touch of old-fashioned thrift has just won a battle of ballots in America.

* * *

That Virginia primary result was a triumph for Senator Harry Byrd, who was tabbed for a blitzing by powerful forces because he had the courage of his convictions, never confused dollars with confetti, and had a clean record of refusing to vote the way the wind blew.

* * *

The more you think of it, the more striking it is. The word was out to "get" the Byrd candidates in a way that would nullify his power and most of the experts thought that, in an era of glorification for loose spenders, he would get the works at the polls.

It's been the top topic of conversation in Washington, where nothing is so flabbergasting as a sign the voters want any part of a man who isn't for spending $100 when $50 is all that's needed.

Summary of Week's Happenings

Congress Divides On Arms-Aid Subject

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

A DECADE ago Congress slashed the military preparedness measures of President Franklin Roosevelt. Had Congress met those requests even to a modest degree, the United States could have shortened the war by at least six months, saved 50 billion dollars and hundreds of thousands of casualties.

That was the grave, solemn testimony of Gen. George C. Marshall last week before Congress. The man who was U. S. Army chief of staff in World War II and later secretary of state, drew a gloomy analogy between the present and 1939. Once again, he said, Congress was on the verge of minor economies which might result in major expenditures later on.

Gen. Marshall declared that in his opinion it would be "a very dangerous thing" for Congress to delay or cut President Truman's $1,450,000,000 arms - aid program for Atlantic Pact members.

"Get Respect of Russia."

Marshall said he did not believe the program would start a world armaments race. "What we've got to get is the respect of Russia," he explained, rather than give any idea of "aggression against Russia."

The former secretary of state said he was opposed to a Republican plan of limiting foreign arms aid to a smaller stop-gap program until the North Atlantic allies organize a defense council and adopt an overall plan. Sen. Arthur Vandenberg (R-Mich) and Sen. John Foster Dulles (R-NY), GOP leaders of the bi - partisan foreign policy, were among those backing this suggestion.

A state department aide declared later it might take five or six years for full-fledged development of an integrated defense among the pact members.

A compromise is being sought, however, on the broad powers of administration sought by the President.

Tour West Europe.

Meanwhile, the U. S. military chiefs of staff were on a flying 10-day survey of western European defenses. The party included Army Gen. Omar N. Bradley, Air Force Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg and Adm. Louis E. Denfeld of the Navy.

Before leaving Washington, Gen. Bradley told a Congressional committee that in the event of attack upon an Atlantic treaty member, the U. S. "able to deliver the atomic bomb," would handle strategic bombing while western European partners would concentrate on building up ground forces.

In Germany, the joint chiefs disclosed that jet planes soon will replace all standard - type American fighters in the U. S. occupation zone.

At Home

More Polio Cases.

Poliomyelitis, often called infantile paralysis, is a disease of childhood that also strikes adults.

Polio is caused by a virus and there are several kinds. It affects spinal nerves. Fifty to 60 per cent recover completely; from 5 to 10 per cent may die.

This year the polio incidence rate is far ahead of 1948, second worst epidemic year in the nation's history.

There is no vaccine for polio, no prescribed means of prevention. Positive early diagnosis is difficult.

Doctors have found that many adults have a high resistance to polio, perhaps built up from a previous but unrecognized bout with the disease.

A year ago, the polio epidemic reached its peak on September 18, almost a month later than normal. In recent years, outbreaks have attained their maximum by mid-August or early September. New cases usually dwindle rapidly with the first sign of fall weather.

Rent Lids Argued.

Rent control is being carried to the Supreme Court.

Landlords claim postwar costs have risen and rents should be allowed to follow suit. Building management, they say, has become an increasingly unprofitable business.

The American Municipal Association, which has 8,000 city governments in its membership, says lids have been popped off rent controls in at least 82 cities since local option authority, granted by Congress, became effective last April 1.

About Tooth Decay.

The American Dental Association advises people not to expect too much from the new ammoniated tooth cleaner as a preventive of decay.

The association's Journal declared in an editorial that the effects of using ammoniated dentifices are still not fully evaluated, and many claims are not warranted by present scientific evidence.

The Journal said "time alone will tell" how effective the new products are in stopping decay. It declared:

"Meanwhile the public will have the privilege of being guinea pigs. The dentist will be extremely cautious in his recommendations, and the purchaser will brush his teeth with tongue in cheek, if such is physically possible."

Abroad

Church and State Clash.

The cold war between communism and the Roman Catholic church continued to spread last week.

Red-dominated Romania dissolved 15 Roman Catholic welfare orders and their priests, monks and nuns 15 days in which to decide to leave the religious life or to isolate themselves in cloisters or old age asylums.

The best known of the organizations dissolved is the French order of St. Vincent de Paul.

Catholic priests of Romania, in common with the clergy of several other denominations, are paid by the state. Recently, two Catholic bishops and 130 Catholic priests were removed from the state payroll for "anti-democratic activity."

In west Germany, Catholics were told in a pastoral letter read in the churches to vote only for "Christian" candidates in the August 14 Parliamentary elections.

The pastoral letter referred to all leftists under the blanket term "Socialist," and reiterated the recent Vatican edict warning Catholics to avoid contamination by Communism or face excommunication.

The Boswell Papers.

James Boswell, who won fame by writing about his famous literary companion, Samuel Johnson, kept voluminous notes. In them he jotted down with unabashed frankness all details of his private life as it touched those of great 18th Century English writers.

Since his death in 1795, Boswell's Scotch and Irish descendants kept those papers in virtual hiding.

An American spent 25 years tracking down and purchasing the scattered private papers.

Yale scholars call it "the greatest collection of English literary manuscripts of the 18th Century

Yale will have the collection published —40 or 50 volumes of it.

Battle of the Utilities

By THOMAS L. STOKES

WASHINGTON — The far west and Pacific coast contributed heavily to President Truman's surprise election victory last November.

A big factor in his strength in that area was his forthright stand for government transmission lines from the great public projects there, so-called multiple-purpose projects because they furnish irrigation, reclamation and electric power.

But the election returns seem not yet to have seeped into certain quarters. The Senate appropriations committee has deleted funds that the House voted in the interior department appropriation bill for construction of eight government transmission lines from projects in California, Oregon, Idaho, Montana and Colorado, as well as for money for two government power plants and six substations.

It likewise reduced appropriations for transmission lines for the Southwestern Power Administration in Missouri, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Texas. And it eliminated funds for contracting and marketing power from flood-control projects in eight southeastern states.

The committee yielded to the great private utilities involved, which want to build their own lines from the government projects so they can control distribution and sale of the power, themselves.

In a few days the issue will be fought out in the Senate where an attempt will be made to restore the funds voted by the House for government construction of the transmission lines and other facilities. It is a basic issue.

If the private utilities should win, this would reverse a policy for equitable and adequate distribution of power from multiple-purpose projects that was laid down by Congress as far back as the 1906 Reclamation Act and reaffirmed and strengthened by the Congress from time to time since, most recently in the 1944 Flood Control Act.

* * *

Would Reverse Policy.

THE OUTCOME is of national interest, for the principle involved applies to projects elsewhere in the country other than those directly affected in this bill which, as can be seen, are widely scattered.

This transmission-line battle represents the latest strategy of the private utilities to check and control the public-power program. For many years they tried to prevent approval by Congress of multiple-purpose projects.

They are still busy at that in their fight against creation of authorities for the Missouri river valley and the Columbia river valley—the MVA and CVA—patterened after TVA in Tennessee. But Congress has approved many projects. The aim now is to hamstring these, along with trying to stop the authorization of others.

The policy laid down by Congress in successive statutes for the multiple-purpose projects is threefold. Preference in sale of power must be given to municipalities, other public corporations or agencies and to co-operatives and other non-profit organizations.

Rates shall be the lowest consistent with sound business principles. Power shall be distributed so as to encourage the widest possible use and to prevent monopoly.

The public has a big stake in this issue because of the great sums it has invested, through its government, in these projects which the private utilities now would monopolize and control for their own profit. The public, therefore, should keep its eyes on the Senate.

WITH Bergman and Hayworth still grabbing headlines I hear one major studio has told its top femme star to get kidnaped, married or drop dead in 30 days.

* * *

In the event of the last her option will be renewed for "B" pictures.

* * *

But Miss Hayworth follows custom in her present public seclusion. . . . Few American women are seen in such circumstance except at the ironing board, the corner grocery, the movies etc.

* * *

Domestic etiquette dictates that when a woman whispers her happy secret to her husband, he is to say "You go and rest and I'll draw the blinds and take care of everything from now on."

* * *

If there are any instances of husbands who have not done this, it just shows how things are going these days.

But gosh . . . between storks and strombolis it's sure exciting!

ODD FACT.

In the manufacture of textile fabrics the ancient people of Peru were acquainted with every style of weaving known today.

Two New Books, 26 Films Reveal True Horrors of Second World War

NEW YORK—The cold war is a bore. A third world war is something few even wish to think about.

But the second world war is still of tremendous public interest.

Politically, that war is still continuing, but its combat phase has been over for four years. And it is the period of actual fighting that people want to know more about. What was it really like? What really happened at places like Iwo Jima, Salerno, Anzio, Bastogne?

Year by year, as the memoirs and the novels pile up, the real story of mankind's greatest test-at-arms is filtering through. For war is a kind of huge jigsaw puzzle. You can't put it together and understand it all at once because the pieces come to you slowly.

The general pattern of the war can best be found in the memoirs of people who usually write memoirs—generals and statesmen. To get the real feel of battle and the hurts it gave, you have to turn to books written by the men who fought the war and best knew its boredom and danger—the junior officers and enlisted men.

Two of the latest are "A Tent On Corsica," by Martin Quigley, an ex-sergeant in the 12th Airforce, and "Day Without End," by Van Van Praag, a former infantry platoon leader.

Both explore new territory. Van Praag tells a one-day tale of the life and death of a doughboy platoon in the heart-breaking hedgerows of Normandy. It is rough and bitter and true.

Quigley's book deals with the adventures, sometimes hilarious, sometimes fatal, of a group of B-26 bomber gunners who knew they had one chance in four of getting home. It is the best story yet on the boys who rode the medium bombers.

★

In the pictorial field, the most ambitious presentation of the second world war is the series of 26 television films prepared by March of Time and based on Gen. Eisenhower's book, "Crusade In Europe." To compile the series, the editors had to scan 165,000,000 feet of official service films and newsreels—some 31,060 miles.

This series, covering the European war from the rise of nazism to the signing of the German surrender in the schoolhouse at Rheims, shows the impact of war—its brutality and devastation—more graphically than any novel, merely because it is so terribly factual.

I went to a preview of one of the films with two soldiers who had fought over the area shown—the Hurtgen forest, which Eisenhower himself described as "one of the most bitterly contested battles of the entire campaign."

"That's the way it was," said Corp. Seals W. Knight, 29, a Bronze-Star winner who was wounded in the forest. "I don't want anymore of things like that. It was rough there."

"The public ought to know more about what war is like," said the other soldier, Corp. Oliver G. Snow, 42. "But you can't put it all in pictures. You can't put in the smell.

"If you could do that, there wouldn't be any more wars."

Members of Crooked Lottery Gang Paid Taxes To Foil U. S. Treasury

Bearing out the contention here that racketeers fear the efficient men in the criminal investigation branch of the U. S. Treasury beyond all other threats, I learn that the New Jersey gang that ran the huge crooked lottery (numbers) set-up went through the motions of paying income taxes.

They deducted the withholding percentage and social security assessments of their hundreds of employes. The principals paid up, too, though I can't believe they came clean. In such crooks, greed is stronger than fear.

The left hand knows what the right hand is doing, but grabs it by the wrist and says, "Don't be a sucker; pay, but not all!"

Mary Collins, who had to resign as "Miss New York," did so because of a sad predicament. She was under contract to William Schuller, models' agent, who refused to release her unless she paid $3,000 or guaranteed him 15 percent of her earnings from any source.

That is not illegal. He had signed her up in good faith and was entitled to consideration for freeing her. But she claimed her contract was unenforceable, as she'd signed it while under age. Schuller invited her to test that in a court. There wasn't time for that.

Seems no entrants were eligible unless they were tied up by Grace Downs, a rival agent who had the New York rights to the promotion, which gets more smelly every year. . . Mary's boy friend, by the way, is a new York detective.

Joe Becker, manager of the Jersey City Giants, was summoned into court to reveal why he fell behind on support-money for his three sons by his former wife, Minett McGarth, of St. Louis. Becker has custody of the oldest boy, Joe, Jr., now playing with the Sioux City, Ia., team who was one of the pros injured in the Washington State bus crash.

Becker's lawyer pleaded he had paid $3,000 for the son's medical expenses. But what I started out to tell you was that in the domestic relations court at the time, one Santo Viscuso sought rights to visit his young son. Mrs. Viscuso contested.

Her allegations were that she had paid for her husband's education, his clothes and their honeymoon, until he grew aloof, monopolized the bathroom," and "when I would not buy him a girdle, he wore mine."

The inside tale of the Rudy Vallee-Elinor Norris engagement is so different from most Hollywood plots of starlit studio love. Rudy who is now 48, first saw Elinor last year, when she was 20, as she lolled on a Santa Monica beach. He decided on the spot that his time was her time. But he couldn't make any time. She beat it in her bathing-suit.

Vallee scouted about and got her name and address, but no phone number. He began a barrage of old-fashioned, smitten, lyrical love-letters to her. It took months before she would even let him come to her home.

The T-men haven't yet nailed all the counterfeiters. The gang rounded up in the Bronx uttered pretty good 10s and 20s. But some excellent bogus $100 bills are floating around. . .

Sycamore Enlistee To Study Electronics

Charles G. Busick, son of Mrs. Florence M. Bailey, Sycamore R. D. 1, has enlisted in the U. S. Navy for three years. Busick was sent to the Naval Training Center at San Diego, Calif., for recruit training.

Due to his outstanding score on qualification tests, Busick was selected to attend an electronics school after he finishes recruit training.

Use Walpark Office

The newly-formed Wharton-Roby general insurance agency will have offices in the Walpark building, not at Wharton's former office as previously reported.

The agency is a merger of the firms of Joe Roby and Clyde Wharton, and will operate from Roby's office.

Mrs. Stahl, 57, Succumbs

Mrs. Clara Belle Stahl, 57, of 407 Fairlawn avenue, wife of LeRoy Stahl, died at General hospital Friday afternoon following an illness of eight weeks.

Mrs. Stahl was born at Mohicanville, Dec. 9, 1891, but had lived the greater part of her life in Mansfield. She was a member of the St. Mark's Lutheran church.

Surviving, besides her husband, are two daughters, Mrs. LeRoy Stroble and Mrs. Dorothy Wise, both of Mansfield; two brothers, Ralph Allenbaugh of Mansfield and Gail Allenbaugh of Wadsworth; one sister, Mrs. Grant Fornshell of Wooster, and five grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at the Wappner funeral home at 1 p. m. Monday, in charge of Rev M. W. Wappner, who will officiate in the absence of Rev. C. A. Portz, pastor of the St. Mark's Lutheran church. Burial will be in the Mansfield cemetery.

Operation Won't Stop McGregor

Congressman Plans Visit Here Aug. 17-18

Congressman J. Harry McGregor is going to make his annual tour of the six county seats in his district despite a recent major operation. He is due in Mansfield Aug. 17 and 18.

The congressman announced today in Washington that he would adhere to his schedule after doctors assured him that he could go ahead, "if I take it easy." McGregor recently underwent a serious ear operation.

He stated that although congress will be in session, the House will be in a series of three-day recesses awaiting Senate action on legislature passed by the House.

The congressman said that Mrs. McGregor and his secretary would accompany him on his tour of the district.

McGregor said he had made arrangements to be in the courtrooms of the courthouses at the various county seats from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. for conferences with constituents on the following schedule:

Aug. 15 and 16, at Ashland; Aug. 17 and 18, at Mansfield; Aug. 19 and 20, at Mt. Vernon; Aug. 22 and 23, at Delaware; Aug. 24 and 25, at Newark; and Aug. 26 and 27, at Coshocton.

McGregor is scheduled to address the Mansfield and Shelby Co-Operative clubs at a meeting on the night of Aug. 16 at Westbrook Country club.

Files Suit For $1,210

A suit for $1,210 was filed yesterday in common pleas court against Keffalas, Inc., DeSoto hotel. Theodore R. Spilka filed the action, as trustee in bankruptcy for Joesph Pitzarell, of the Washington apartments.

The plaintiff says that Pitzarell filed a petition in the U. S. District court for northern Ohio on Feb. 19 and was adjudicated a bankrupt.

Spilka said Pitzarell was the owner of canned goods and groceries stored at the premises of Keffalas, Inc., at the DeSoto hotel and that the goods worth $1,210 were converted by Keffalas, Inc. to its own use. Attorney Homer G. Clark represents Spilka.

OSR Escaper Surrenders

One of two inmates of the Mansfield reformatory, who walked away from the institution's hog farm last Tuesday, gave himself up yesterday in Athens, OSR officials said today.

Jesse Jennings, 19, of Athens county, is being returned to the reformatory today by the Athens county sheriff.

He was received at the reformatory last March 2, to serve one to 15 years for breaking and entering.

The other escaper, Paul J. Gibbs, 20, sentenced from Franklin county for auto theft, is still at large.

WELCOMES RECRUIT—Miss Margaret M. Walery, 224½ West Third street, is officially welcomed into the regular Women's Marine Corps by Staff Sgt. George Stupar, who is shown reading her orders. Miss Walery, 23, is the first woman to be accepted by the regular Marine Corps from the Mansfield area, according to Recruiting Officer Stupar. She will leave for the Marine Corps recruiting depot at Parris Island, S. C., Sept. 5. She enlisted for three years.

3 Break-Ins Reported

Thieves Get Keys At Used Car Lot

Three more cases of breaking and entering were reported to police yesterday and today.

The office of a used car lot at 175 Ashland road was entered and keys to a house trailer on the lot were stolen, Hubert Holloway, 65 State street, reported to police yesterday.

Both the office and the house trailer were ransacked but nothing except the keys were stolen, police said.

Entrance was made by breaking an office window frame, police said.

Louise Edgell, 118 Waring avenue, reported to police at 4:30 a. m. today that her home had been ransacked, but apparently nothing was stolen.

She told police she left the house at 6 p. m. Friday and returned at 4 a. m. today to discover dresser drawers had been searched. Police said entrance was made through an open window on the west side of the house.

A vacant house at 73 North Adams street has been entered several times during the past two weeks, Mrs. Madeline Ferguson, 67 North Adams street, told police yesterday afternoon.

Evidence shows the basement was searched with candles, she said.

Mrs. Wilcox To Be Buried Here

Funeral services for Mrs. Lena Wilcox, who died at her home in Detroit Friday, will be held at the Wappner funeral home at 10 a. m. Monday, in charge of Rev. John G. Gensel, pastor of the St. Paul Lutheran church. Burial will be in the Mansfield cemetery.

Mrs. Wilcox was the wife of W. A. Wilcox, a former Mansfield resident.

Bucyrus Plant Furloughs 57

BUCYRUS — Lay-off of 57 employes at the General Electric company fluorescent lamp plant here, effective Aug. 15, was announced today.

The lay-off, due to the lack of demand for fluorescent lamps, will result in the local plant operating on a single shift basis instead of its present two-shift schedule.

Plant officials said 51 women and six men would be furloughed.

K. D. Whiteman Stricken In Marion

Kenneth D. Whiteman, former Mansfield resident, died early today in Marion. Mr. Whiteman suffered a heart attack two weeks ago and died in a Marion hospital. Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

Mr. Whiteman was a member of the Mansfield Owls, Eagles, and Moose. He is survived by his wife, Maude of Marion, three sons, Carl and Dale of Marion and Kenneth of Mansfield, one daughter, Mrs. Robert Boyd of Mansfield, and five grandchildren.

Illinois Woman Injured In Crash

CRESTLINE — Mrs. Gordon H. Doeringsfeld of Elgin, Ill., was treated for shock and abrasions by a Crestline physician after a car driven by her husband collided with a car driven by Cordis Clevenger of Crestline, R. D. 2, at 8:30 a. m. yesterday in Crestline.

Clevenger was arrested for reckless operation of his car. This was the second accident to occur at the intersection of West Main and North Seltzer streets in 16 hours.

Probers Report On War Contract Fraud

WASHINGTON —(UP)— The Justice department said today more than 100 cases of possible fraud in settling government war contracts have been unearthed by the General Accounting office but that very few criminal actions have developed.

There have been 17 indictments, a spokesman said. Seven cases are pending. The rest were disposed of by fines or acquittal. There have been no jail sentences. Eighteen cases are still being investigated.

The department supplied the information after Comptroller General Lindsay C. Warren charged in a report to Congress that more than $6,280,000 had been paid to contractors fraudulently under the Contract Settlement act of 1944.

In 1944 Warren fought for a law that would have required his auditors to go over contractors' books before any settlements were made. But Congress insisted on settlements as soon as possible so contractors could use the money to start peacetime production.

Although no criminal action appeared justified in some 65 or more cases turned up by Warren, the Justice department in many cases recovered overpayments through civil suits. Warren placed the recovery at $107,882.

He pointed out that as soon as an investigation starts, the affected government agency immediately suspends all business with the contractor involved.

Some firms short of capital and not equipped to do non-government work have been forced out of business this way, he said.

Hospital Bureau OK's 13 Cases

Members of the Hospital Bureau, a Red Feather agency of the Community Chest, met Friday afternoon at the Chest office, to review a number of hospital cases. William Bell, chairman of the bureau, presided.

Members decided to pay for 13 admissions, comprising 89 patients days. The total bill allowed was $955.57, all at General hospital. The highest bill was for $283.

Petitioner Asks $20,280

Frank L. Edwards, 20 Ford avenue, filed a suit in common pleas court today against George Reichert, 364 Bartley avenue, for $20,280 damages as a result of a traffic accident Aug. 14, 1947.

The plaintiff charges he was riding in a Service Taxi company cab owned by Reichert when it crashed into a parked car on West Fourth street, between Penn and Rowland avenues.

Edwards said he lost considerable pay and was permanently injured in the accident.

In another action filed in court today, Mabel Hassinger, 352½ West Fourth street, asks a $5,502 judgment against her former husband, Dallas E. Stocker, 348 West Third street.

The petition states that Stocker was to pay $6 a week for the support of their child until it became self-supporting. The plaintiff contends that no payment has been made since April 21, 1928.

Group To Plan Social Monday

Plans for an old-fashioned ice cream social with round and square dancing will be made Monday night when Prospect Park association members hold their regular meeting in the park pavilion.

The meeting is scheduled for 8 p. m.

P. G. Renie, president of the association, said the social has been set for Aug. 26 and dancing will be held on the lighted tennis courts at the park.

Renie added that plans also will be made for a horseshoe tournament for the park.

GET 'OSCARS' —

The Children's Theater versions of Hollywood "Oscars" were presented yesterday to four young thespians who have given outstanding performances during this summer season. They were presented at the circus picnic by Harold McCuen, theater director. The awards were bronze pins with suitable inscription. Lee Cramer won his for playing the Prince in "Sleeping Beauty" and the mayor in the "Pied Piper;" Bruce Campbell for his part of Jack in "Jack and the Bean Stalk"; Mona Lou Wissinger for her role as the miller's daughter in "Rumplestiltskin"; and Susie Wolfe for a general all-round fine performance.

Leiderkranz Picnic Slated

The GBU park will be the scene of the annual picnic for members of the Mansfield Liederkranz Sunday, with festivities opening at 10 a. m.

Hourly bus service will be provided for those without cars, the buses leaving Fourth and Main streets beginning at 11 a. m. There will be extra pick-up service at Grace and Wayne streets during the afternoon.

Entertainment will include the usual features of an outing, with pony rides and ball games and dancing to Skulski's Polka Tuners.

Members of the Cleveland and Akron organizations are expected to participate in the picnic.

2 Co-op Clubs Plan Session Here

Mansfield Co-Operative club members have invited the Shelby Co-op club to attend a joint meeting of the two groups at Westbrook Country club Aug. 16. Mansfield club members visited the Shelby club Thursday night.

A golf match will precede the dinner meeting. Rep. J. Harry McGregor is scheduled to speak at the joint meeting.

Members of the Mansfield Co-op club will go to Cleveland Aug. 15 to see the Cleveland-Detroit night baseball game.

New Liquor Price Scale Would Give Richland $57,701

Richland county will get $57,701 of the six-million-dollar increase in local government funds through a proposed "one price" liquor schedule that may be established by the state department of liquor control, it was estimated today.

The one-price schedule means the same price will be charged for wholesale as retail purchases.

Walter W. Mitchell, chairman of the board of liquor control, filed with the secretary of state yesterday the text of a proposed regulation which, if adopted, will establish the one-price schedule and reduce the state mark-up from 30 to 25 per cent. It will include the 1941, 1942, and 1944 federal excise taxes in the price computation, and give tavern keepers a 10 per cent discount on all purchases at state wholesale outlets.

Surrounding counties would get the following amounts from the proposed plan: Ashland, $29,419; Crawford, $26,122; Holmes, $12,500; Huron, $23,508; Knox, $16,702; and Morrow, $12,500.

Youth Badly Hurt Diving Into Quarry

Suffers Fracture Of Neck

Visitor Hurt Near Bucyrus

BUCYRUS—A 17-year-old swimmer yesterday suffered a fractured neck when his body struck a rock while diving into an abandoned stone quarry near Oceola, six miles west of here.

The victim, Ello Freeman, of Peebles, Adams county, had been visiting a cousin, Kent Wilson of near Oceola, and they joined two Bucyrians on the swimming party. The accident occurred at 5 p. m.

Freeman was pulled from the pool by a companion, Raymond Hord, 21, of Bucyrus and taken to City hospital here. X-rays were taken and Freeman was removed to Grant hospital in Columbus.

Sheriff Ralph Schreck of Crawford county said the quarry was abandoned two years ago by the National Lime and Stone company, with a property owner living near Oceola acquiring possession of the pool. Repeated warnings of the danger of swimming in the abandoned quarry have been issued by the sheriff's office.

DISCOURAGE SWIMMERS

There are no bathhouse facilities at the quarry and Schreck said his deputies make frequent checks to discourage swimmers there. The accident yesterday was the first to occur there, Schreck said.

The sheriff said the quarry is 200 feet deep in places.

Attaches in Grant hospital in Columbus reported today that Freeman's condition remains critical.

According to Schreck, the four members of the swimming party were the only ones at the quarry at the time of the accident. The fourth member of the party was Mrs. Verdie Bronson, of Bucyrus.

Jailed In Child Sale

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. — (UP) — A young father, who confessed to officers that he sold his pretty three-year-old daughter for $500 to buy a used car, today was ordered to jail for one year.

Juvenile Court Judge Talbot Ellis also directed that Leamon Alvin Edwards' other child, eight-months-old Sandra Lee, be taken away from him and his wife, Viola, and committed to the custody of the welfare department.

Edwards' sentence actually came from a conviction on charges of non-support last October. At that time he was given probation on a 12 months jail sentence and a $100 fine and court costs.

Judge Ellis today revoked the probation and ordered him to serve the 12 months and pay the fine and court costs.

The decision was announced after a hearing which resulted from the alleged sale of three-year-old Viree. Edwards admitted to officers that he "sold" the child to a Bessemer cafe operator for $500.

Church Dedicates Communion Ware

LOUDONVILLE — Trinity Evangelical and Reformed church will hold its annual midsummer Holy Communion service Sunday at 10:45 a. m.

A feature of the service will be the dedication of new communion ware. A set of interlocking, highly-polished aluminum bread plates will be presented by Mrs. Edward Hanna, in memory of her deceased husband, Edward.

A set of ideal cup trays of polished aluminum will be presented by Mrs. E. E. Huffman as a gift to the church. Additional new communion glasses are being presented by William Wolf.

The services will be conducted by the pastor, Rev. Lester Dresch.

Sen. Anderson Backs New Plan

WASHINGTON — (AP) — A bipartisan Senate group today offered secretary of agriculture Brannan a compromise mode of his new farm program They expected the administration farm leader to back it

If he doesn t Senators said, he probably will get a farm plan that he has publicly branded as much worse

Brannan was invited to a closed-door session of a seven-man agriculture subcommittee headed by Senator Anderson (D-NM), who preceded him as secretary of agriculture.

After much tugging and hauling, Anderson has achieved agreement among disputing senators for a new farm program that appears to pick up a few suggestions from all opposing camps

It would continue through next year government price supports on corn, wheat cotton, tobacco rice and peanuts — the so-called basic crops — at near the present and wartime levels

It would do the same thing for a long list of non-basic crops that can be stored such as oats barley, rye, meats, butter and similar products

It would allow Brannan — under numerous limitations — to try out "production payments" on non-basic crops that are perishable — probably fresh vegetables oranges grapefruit, and other fresh fruits

It would put into operation a "flexible price support" plan similar to the one Congress decided last year to set going would be higher

This is how Brannan s plan would work

Instead of using government loans and purchases to keep market prices high for meats butter and other "non-basic" perishable crops, Brannan suggested they find their own market levels This sounded good to housewives and consumers

Brannan proposed government subsidies, if necessary to keep farm income at announced levels

The new Senate bill would prohibit these production payments on "livestock, milk or any other perishable nonbasic agricultural commodity which can be effectively and efficiently supported through price support operations undertaken with respect to a storable product of any such commodity"

Ducks Enjoy Dinner On Store Roof

DAYTON — (AP) — There's a new duckpond in downtown Dayton But pedestrains can t pause and watch the graceful fowl swim Nor can they throw food to the quacking ducks

Why? Because the pond is on top of a one-story building

The store keeps from four to five inches of water on the roof of the building as part of its air conditioning system

When bugs and insects began to gather there store officials feared it would become a nesting place for the insects

So they got permission of city health officials for "operation duck" and now the roof is insect free And the ducks don t seem to mind the altitude

P S the ducks also get other food supplied by the store

Father Shot In Family Row

TOLEDO — (AP) — A father who allegedly abused his wife and daughter was shot and killed by his 19-year-old son last night Sheriff George Timiney reported

Harold [illegible] Robeson 43 a New York Central railroad system carpenter, was killed by a shotgun blast His son Bruce was held in county jail pending an inquest No charges were filed

Sheriff Timiney said the man s wife Jessie reported her husband had been drinking when he returned home about 7 p m

Timiney said the son became involved in a struggle between the father mother and a 16 year old daughter Shirley and was knocked from a porch

Then the sheriff said the son got a shotgun he had been using for target practice on tin cans returned to the porch and shot the father

Police Raid Nets Dynamite, Wire

CLEVELAND — (AP) — Five sticks of dynamite and a fuse wire were found by detectives who raided the hotel room of a 38 year old factory worker from Georgia yesterday

The man was held for questioning in connection with a series of dynamite blasts and stench bombings here Detectives said he told them he planned to use the dynamite to blast fish

For Sunday, August 7

Sunday s astrological forecast is for a disruptive and conflicting state of affairs with much to throw the balance either way by sagacious behavior tact, discretion and practical judgment Shun all extravagance and speculative enterprises using high principle and not expediency in forming judgments Some secret influence may incite to right action in the face of seeming calamity or disaster

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may expect a year of conflicting and challenging experiences in which a sudden intervention or strange undercurrent may turn the tide with subtlety and happy intrigue Refrain from rash or wild tactics in efforts to change the tide Perhaps a domestic or romantic tie may be at the bottom and avert the crash

A child born on this day may have reckless or unaccountable urges but eventually sound reason sane judgment or peculiar influences may avert a devastating expense

White Paper Answered By Critics

GOP Leaders Hit Statement

WASHINGTON — (UP) —Critics of the administration s China policy which virtually abandons the Chinese Nationalist government to the communists today reaffirmed their faith in the ability of the United States to halt the red menace in the far east

Sen Pat McCarran, D, Nev, joined GOP leaders in voicing the opinion that this country could have stopped the march of communism in China had it taken positive action

"In this instance, we could have and can yet stop communism," McCarran said "But if we continue the policy set out in the white paper it will be only a short time until all of Asia is under communist control which will extend to Japan and the Philippines

Senate Republican leader Kenneth S Wherry said "I can't see why we lock the front door in Europe and keep the back door open If we're going to give it (financial aid) out, we should include China"

Sen William F Knowland R Calif issued this statement

"The white paper on United States relations with China has been issued It was preceded by the President s statement of Aug 4 in which he stated that the role of this government has been subject to considerable misrepresentation distortion and misunderstanding

"This is understandable when responsible committees of the Congress and members of the Senate and House were denied access to the Wedemeyer report of Sept 19 1947 for almost two full years and were not informed of other vital factual information that would have been of aid in taking sound congressional action

Sen Leverett Saltonstall R, Mass "I m sorry to see the secretary of state write off Nationalist China as a complete loss I'd like to know more about it before I agree with him His suggestion that we might aid neighboring nations against communist agression certainly is worthy of study"

Sen Edwin C Johnson, D, Col said

"The state department gives me so few occasions these days to cheer that I better make the most of this opportunity. To intervene in the civil war in China would be reckless beyond description. The difficulties in China are so complicated and involved that it would be sheer folly for us to try to solve them at this stage.

Rep E E Cox D Ga said

"The China white paper is only a face-saving device It is an alibi and does not state the truth The stress of China, as well as that of so many other formerly free countries of the world upon whose necks now press the iron heel of Russia, is the result of our own policy of appeasing this monster of the east"

Where To Store It Will Be a Problem

Record Corn Crop In Sight In Midwest

CHICAGO — (AP) — In the midwest corn is busting out all over.

Another national crop in excess of three billion bushels — the fourth in history — appears assured. There is a good possibility the crop will set an all-time record for the second year in a row.

Some sections of the country have poorer prospects than a year ago — notably the northeastern states, where a long spring drought dried up moisture reserve in the soil. But the crop is in splendid condition in the main midwest producing belt.

Latest estimates on the crop range from 3,560,000,000 to 3,750,000,000 bushels.

Last year's all-time record totaled 3,650,548,000 bushels.

Although predicting a slightly smaller output, C. M. Galvin, grain firm executive, admits "with ideal weather the remainder of the season, it is entirely possible that a new record production could be established."

This new crop will fall upon a land which already has more corn left from previous years than ever before. On July 1 there were 1,239,444,000 bushels of old corn still left on farms — just about three times as much as a year earlier. The new crop thus raises a big problem: where to store it?

Corn must be stored if farmers are to get a government price support loan. The loan has not been announced yet, but on the basis of present parity prices grain men estimate it will be about $1.54 a bushel at Chicago.

December corn futures on the Chicago Board of Trade are selling nearly 40 cents a bushel under this figure. That price is a clear indication grain traders believe the corn support program, which tottered last winter, will fall apart next winter.

Traders explained, however, that such a price might make it profitable for farmers to build bins for storage. They reasoned it would cost less to build the bin, and get a government loan on the grain, than to send the grain to market at a price 40 cents under the loan.

The agriculture department is expected to send out bulletins to farmers, and to stage county demonstrations, urging them to build such bins.

Keep Draft, Army Urges

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Army wants the draft law retained as insurance in case of a sudden outbreak of war, instead of letting it die next June.

The national military establishment said the matter of asking Congress to extend the draft will be considered by the joint chiefs of staff.

While the Navy and Air Force haven't made up their minds, Lt. Gen. E. H. Brooks, director of army personnel, said in an interview the ground forces want the law to stay on the books.

Congress, Brooks said, might not have time to enact a new selective service act in case of swift attack. And even after passage of such a law, he added, it would be 60 to 90 days before the necessary machinery could be set up.

Under the present standby law, which has not been used since January, men could be drafted immediately.

Of the three armed services, the army alone has had need of the draft since World War II ended. The Navy and Air Force, being smaller, have kept up their strength through voluntary enlistments.

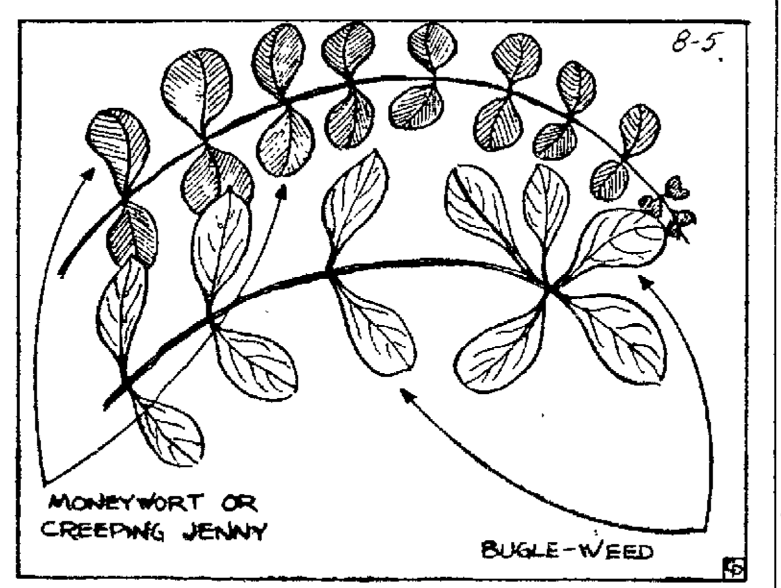
Mrs. Godfrey, an employe of Ohio Pastries, was a member of the Daughters of America. Mrs. Godfrey leaves her husband, Charles; a daughter, Mrs. Rhea Newell of Kalamazoo, Mich.; a son, J. Webster Burns of Ashland; two sisters, Mrs. Letha Hughes of Ashland, and Mrs. Hilda Fettro of Greenwich, and a brother, Sherman Opdyke of Greenwich.

Today's Garden Graph

Good Small Ground Covers



By DEAN HALLIDAY
Central Press Association

Bald spots where grass won't grow can often be "carpeted" with green, growing ground covers.

The following evergreen ground covers can be used to hide unsightly bare spots under or near trees: myrtle, vinca minor; evergreen bittersweets, euonymus in many varities; English ivy, hedera helix; and the Japanese spurge, pachysandra terminalis. They are listed in their oder as the quickness of growth.

A good small ground cover, known as Bugle-Weed, is shown in the accompnaying Garden - Graph. It will spread its low rosettes of leaves anywhere you care to plant it. Its blue, white or rosecolored flowers are borne in terminal spikes in May and June. It is propagated by seed or division in either spring or autom. There also is a variegated variety.

For moist spots or in dense shade where nothing else will grow Moneywort, illustrated, will prove practical as a "green carpet." It is also known as Creeping Jenny. This creeping herd is a member of the primrose family. It has shiny leaves and produces yellow flowers. Don't let it creep into the lawn area, for there it quickly becomes a pest.

The most common example of garden carpeting, perhaps, is the use of Pachysandra under trees and in other shady places where it is impossible to maintain grass.

English ivy and myrtle are other broad - leaved evergreens of value for use in shady and difficult situations.

Sedums, thymes and veronicas may also be used on small areas where a ground cover, other than grass, is needed.

Feud Halted On Aid Bill

Passage Still Seen Doubtful

WASHINGTON — (UP) — Chances for passage of an aid-to-education bill appeared slim today despite a move by Francis Cardinal Spellman and Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt to call off their feud over the measure.

Most congressional sources felt it is too late in the session to hope for final congressional action on the $300,000,000 measure now. They thought the legislation would have a better chance if they let it die for the time being and revived it next year.

In joint statements last night, Cardinal Spellman and Mrs. Roosevelt restated their positions on spending federal tax money for parochial and other private schools. Neither retreated from previous stands, but their conciliatory attitude indicated they were anxious to end a religious controversy which their dispute had helped spread.

Their argument started over Mrs. Roosevelt's comment in her newspaper column that she favored the general principles of a measure sponsored by Rep. Graham A. Barden, D., N. C., that would deny federal aid funds to parochial and private schools. The cardinal branded the former first lady as "anti-Catholic."

One key Democrat who did not want to be quoted by name described Cardinal Spellman's and Mrs. Roosevelt's latest statements as "encouraging." But there were no signs they would prod Congress to action at this time.

Walsh Takes Riddle's Job

PITTSBURGH — (UP) — Righthander Jim Walsh, a 15-game winner so far this year with Indianapolis, today replaced righthander Elmer Riddle on the pitching staff of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Walsh, who has lost only four games with the American association club, was purchased last night from the Indians for an unannounced sum.

Riddle, 32-year-old hurler who won 19 games for the Cincinnati Reds in 1941 and 21 games for the Reds in 1943, was sent to Indianapolis on option to make room for Walsh. So far this year he had won only one game and lost eight.

Smoother Waters Beckon Shirley

DOVER, Eng. — (INS) —Shirley May France — her morale high and her physical condition excellent — plans to swim in the rough channel waters outside the Dover breakwater tomorrow.

Shunshine and smoother seas renewed the Somerset, Mass., schoolgirl's hopes of setting a new record in a cross channel swim before her 17th birthday on Aug. 11.

Football Thwarts Communism

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. — (INS) — Notre Dame football coach Frank Leahy, told the assembled fellow mentors at the Hot Springs, Ark., gridiron clinic that football was one of the best ways to promote Americanism and thwart communism.

Leahy departed from his lecture on football tactics yesterday to tell his listeners that they had the best opportunity to teach principles of democracy. The right to play football should be based on a boy's ability to play, he said, and not on race, creed, color or background.

Shelby High Gets New Track Coach

Matt Cokor, former Ohio State athletic star, has been appointed head track coach and assistant in football at Shelby high school.

Shelby did not have a track team last spring.

Cokor won four letters in track at OSU as a discus specialist. He played some football at Ohio State, Michigan and at Great Lakes Naval Air Base during the war.

Cokor will assume his new duties Aug. 20.

Moseley and Ridgley Tied In Flyer Golf

DAYTON — (AP) — Capt. Fred Moseley of Portsmouth, Va., and T-Sgt. Harold Ridgley of Havertown, Pa., yesterday remained tied for the lead in the U. S. air force golf tournament.

Moseley and Ridgley each shot a 71 yesterday and had 54-hole totals of 212 in the 72-hole medal event.

Clevelander Winner In National Archery

FOND DU LAC, Wis. — (AP) — Russ Reynolds of Cleveland, winner of the men's target championship yesterday, won the men's international round today in the windup of the national archery association tournament.

Reynolds scored 143 hits for 907 points. Will Rossey of Fond Du Lac was second with 132-746.

Wins Third Title

AKRON — (AP) — The women's golf championship of the Akron district belongs for the third straight time to 19-year-old Betty Kerby, daughter of Fairlawn's pro. Ed Kerby. She defeated Mrs. W. D. Searl, 3 and 2, at Portage Country club yesterday, making Mrs. Searl a runner-up for the seventh time.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Talbert, Mulloy Battle For Berth In Tennis Finals

SOUTH ORANGE, N. J. — (AP) — It will be top seeded Billy Talbert of New York vs. fourth seeded Gardnar Mulloy of Coral Gables, Fla. today in the semi-finals of the eastern grass courts singles championships.

Winner of this match will meet Art Larsen, eight seeded San Franciscan, tomorrow in the title match at the Orange Lawn tennis club.

Larsen scored one of the biggest upsets of the tourney yesterday when he whipped pint sized Felisimo Ampon, giant killer from the Philippines.

It took Larsen five grueling sets to humble the mighty midget, 10-8, 5-7, 1-6, 6-3, 6-1.

Doris Hart of Jacksonville, Fla., and Shirley Fry of Akron, Ohio, will meet in the finals of the women's singles tomorrow.

Marion Nine Wins Girls' Tournament

Defending champion Gorman-Rupp will make its tournament debut tonight as the district softball joust enters second round play on the Pumpers' home field.

One first round game remains on the schedule—Westinghouse vs. Mazza's Cafe of Mt. Vernon—and that will be played as the first game of the night at 7:15. Gorman-Rupp goes against Swan Rubber of Bucyrus at 8:30 while the Jeromesville Merchants tangle with Ashland Garber Printing in the finale.

Mansfield teams had a perfect night last night as Todd's Jewelry took out Mt. Vernon Cochran Motors and Veterans of Foreign Wars edged the Ashland Police, 6-5.

Todd's Dale McKinley fired the top pitching job of the tournament as he allowed Cochran's only one hit and set 14 men down on strikes. Dick Kanz of Sons of Herman had tossed a two-hit job the night before.

McKinley faced only 23 batters as the one man who singled, was thrown out trying to stretch the hit to a double. He retired the first eight men in order, then after issuing a walk, got the next 11 in a row.

Bob Dougherty was Todd's big gun as he had two doubles and a home run in three times at bat. He scored two of his teams three runs.

Marion Smitty's Maids regained the Girls' district title which it held in 1946 and '47 by beating defending champion Cochran-Dalrymple of Mt. Vernon, 5-1.

Helen Mochel of Marion and Barbara Kymer of Mt. Vernon locked in a pitcher's battle and each had only one bad inning. Kymer's came in the third in which Marion got five of its six hits and tallied all five runs. Smitty's did not get a girl past second base the rest of the way. Kymer struck out seven and Mochel eight. Both walked only one batter.

Gorman-Rupp will start the tournament under a severe handicap, the loss of number two Pitcher Stretch Regula. Pumper Manager Nick Weber said last night that Stretch has been declared ineligible because of having played professional baseball several years ago.

According to Nick Barack, Ohio Commissioner, a new AAU rule this year prevents a reinstated amateur from playing. The new rule terms "once a pro, always a pro." Stretch pitched

Sport Center, Police, Eagles Represent Mansfield In Ohio Hot Stove League Tournament Semi-Finals

By FRED THARP
(News-Journal Sports Editor)

WOOSTER — Mansfield's junior baseballers passed their first state-wide test with flying colors here yesterday.

Three of the four Mansfield aggregations participating in the first Ohio tournament of the Hot Stove league won semi-final berths in the two divisions. Only Lumbermens Insurance (13-14 year group) failed to survive its opening setto.

Police Recreation club and Fraternal Order of Eagles won their contests in the 15-16 year tourney while Ohio Sport Center came through in the 13-14 year division. In fact, the Sport Center boys became top-heavy favorites for the crown by pasting Apple Creek, 30 to 4.

The Police had little trouble arresting Sebring, 11 to 2, while the Eagles took advantage of the breaks to edge Lorain Czarnecki, 7 to 5. Lumbermens was ousted by Burbank, 6 to 4.

In today's semi-finals, Sport Center was scheduled against Wooster McIntire Funeral home and Burbank against Lorain East Side Merchants. Both games in the 13-14 tourney were listed for 1 p. m.

The 15-16 semi-finals pit Police against Smithville and the Eagles against Alliance Rotary Royals. These games were slated for 4 p. m.

Championship games in the two divisions are scheduled for 2:30 p. m. tomorrow on two diamonds at the Wooster fairgrounds. All four finalists will receive trophies donated by the various Ohio chapters of the National Hot Stove league.

Other results yesterday: Wooster 6, Alliance Sunoco Gas 3; Lorain 10, Alliance Kiwanis club 0; Smithville 6, Alliance Davison Chemicals 1; Alliance Rotary 8, East Liverpool 2.

The Lorain Merchants utilized three pitchers in turning in the only shutout on the opening day's eight-game card. The three hurlers gave up only four hits.

The Eagles had the closest call of any of the Mansfield victors. Lorain moved ahead 5-2 in the top of the fifth and then the roof fell in on Joe Kish, the Czarnecki starter.

With one away, Butch Brandt drew a walk and Jim Gibson was safe on an error. Kish hit Leon Weekley to load the sacks and then issued passes to Pitcher Jack Howell and Tommy Tucker to force in a pair of runs. Three additional runs tallied when Bob Armstrong let Jim Schafer's hot grounder get away from him.

That gave the Eagles five runs, only one of them earned, on no hits. Howell, a smooth-tossing southpaw, settled down to blank Lorain after the fifth. Howell scattered 10 hits and was tough in the pinches. Lorain picked up three hits in the second but was unable to score when one run was cut down at the plate and two batsmen popped up.

ONLY TWO RUNS

Joe Tucker's home run in the top of the first with one man on gave Sebring its only two runs against the Police. Lefty Lowell Hess outpitched three Sebring hurlers to gain his seventh straight victory. Hess allowed only three hits as his mates scored in every inning except the fifth. Ronnie Williams with a single and triple led the 11-hit Police attack.

Mansfield Sport Center really put its game away with 15 runs in the fifth. Eleven of the tallies were unearned as a third-out error prolonged the game. A substitute, Bill Semenoff, was the big hit fellow with a double and triple to drive in five runs. Sam Gentille and Gene Kleer also had triples for the winners while the latter added three singles.

Sport Center had 24 hits off two Apple Creek pitchers.

Skip Burns, Sport Center ace, blanked Apple Creek for two frames and then gave way to Delano "Satchel" Wright. The two youngsters permitted only four hits as Sport Center won its 24th victory in 26 games. Field Manager John Stranski wanted to save Burns for the semi-finals.

The Lumbenmens-Burbank game was a see-saw affair. Lumbermens took a two-run lead in the first frame but Burbank drove Lefty Bobby Rahall from the hill in the fourth inning with a four-run burst. Lumbermens knotted the count in the top of the sixth on Ronald Pataky's double, a fielder's choice and a pair of bobbles.

Burbank won the contest in the last of the sixth on two errors and Bill Yost's triple. Yost was out trying to stretch his hit into a home run. Neither of the Burbank runs was earned.

Ronald Pataky had two doubles while Yost clouted a pair of triples.

Farm Tools Softballers Hold American Loop Lead

Farm Tools held grimly to its American softball league lead last night as it won an eight-inning game from challenging Disabled American Veterans, 4-3.

The victory was the third straight without defeat in second half play for the Toolmen. The winners led most of the way but had DAV tie the score at 3-3 in the top of the seventh. A home run by Virgil Mapes with one man on knotted the count.

In the last of the eighth, Tools manager Jim LeMunyon led off with a single and was sacrificed to second by Jack Lyons. Bob Boyd flew out but Pitcher Jack Walters won his own game by driving LeMunyon in with a double.

In the only other city game play, American Legion Post 16 took an International league tilt from Tom's Restaurant, 6-5. The Legion pushed over five runs in the bottom of the fifth.

Cerdan Gets Shot At Jake LaMotta

NEW YORK — (AP) — Marcel Cerdan of France will get his chance to win back the world middleweight title from Jake LaMotta on Sept. 28 at the polo grounds.

The International Boxing club made the announcement yesterday that the champion from the Bronx, who took the title from Cerdan by a knockout last June 16 at Detroit, will defend his crown at the home of the New York Giants.

Bills On Warpath

BUFFALO, N. Y. — (AP) — It was hardly a real test, but the Buffalo Bills of the all America football conference impressed 31-809 home folks with a powerful attack last night as they walloped the Jersey City Giants 79-0 in an exhibition game.

Phil Pitcher Breaks Ankle

PITTSBURGH — (UP) — The Philadelphia Phillies were left with only seven available pitchers today after a broken ankle sidelined righthander Russ Meyer, one of the club's top four hurlers.

Meyer, who won eight and lost six for the Phils this year, caught his foot on the mound while pitching at Cincinnati Thursday night. The foot was set in a cast here yesterday and doctors said Meyer would be out of action for at least a month.

Two other pitchers, Curt Simmons and Charley Bicknell, are on National Guard duty and will not be available until Aug. 15.

CLEVELAND — (AP) — Walt Porowski, 32, a former coach of all sports at Perry and Charleston high schools, was hired today as wrestling coach and assistant football coach at Cleveland Benedictine high school. Porowski is a former Kent State university athlete.

'Big' Grapple Show Booked For Tonight

One of the "biggest" wrestling cards ever to be booked in a Mansfield ring is all set to go tonight at the Ashland road armory.

The three bouts will feature some 1,450 pounds of talent with 550 of it going in the 30-minute main event. The short one-fall bout will pit Glamorous Gus, the 300-pound black bear, against Ivan Rasputin, the self-styled Russian Bear.

Rasputin's 250 pounds should make for an interesting tussle with Gus. The bear, animal species, will get the spotlight after the show when he takes a bath in the ring. The bath is a part of Gus's regular show.

Top one-hour affair features the appearance of Frederich Von Schacht against Ronnie Etchison. Von Schacht stands 6-4 and tops the scales at 260 while Etchison will come in at 250.

Opening the show at 8:30 p. m. will be another one-hour affair between Billy Fox and Suni War Cloud. Both of the one-hour bouts will be two-of-three fall goes.

Olympia Quartet Takes Westbrook Golf Loop Lead

Olympia Fields swept 4½ of the possible five points from Inverness to move into first place in the Westbrook Friday night league yesterday. Fresh Meadow's, leader for several weeks, was shut out and fell to second place with 29 points, 2½ behind the leaders. Interlachen has 27½.

Al Hager and Vic Salter tied for medalist honors with par 36 cards. Dick Hosler was only one over with a 37.

Rangers Conclude Week of Drills

The Mansfield Rangers pro football team wound up its first week of drills last night at Tappan field.

Coaches Jimmy Lymper and Ed Stacco have a pretty good line on some of the talent which will be doing heavy duty work for the Rangers this fall. Guard Pete Keiser and End Bob Carpenter have caught Stacco's eye with their all-around line work.

Second week of drills start Monday.

Four Errors Boost Tribe To 3-2 Win

PHILADELPHIA—(AP)—No matter how consistently they keep winning, the Cleveland Indians find their rivals right with them.

The Trible eked out a 3 to 2 victory over the Philadelphia Athletics last night, in the opener of a four-game series, thanks to four infield errors. That made four wins in a row for the Indians, and their seventh triumph in the 11 games of their current eastern trip.

But meanwhile the St. Louis Browns were rolling over and playing dead in a double-header with the New York Yankees, so the Yanks gained a half game on the Tribe and now are three games in front.

Today the Athletics may revert to form and become hostile again, by sending Dick Fowler, their right-hand curveball specialist, against the Indians. Until last night's fizzle by the A's, Shibe park had been a very unfriendly place for Cleveland. The best they could do in each of two earlier visits was to take one of three games.

Fowler has licked the Indians three times in a row since he bowed to them in Cleveland on May 4. He beat them in Cleveland on June 4, in Shibe park on June 20 and in Cleveland on July 15.

His mound opponent will be the Tribe's ace, Bob Lemon, who took his 13th win, against six losses, as a relief pitcher in Thursday night's game with Washington. Lemon won against the A's on June 22 after dropping a decision to them the previous day, and won again on July 14.

TWO BOOTS APIECE

In last night's contest, Shortstop Eddie Joost and Third Baseman Hank Majeski had two errors each to give Cleveland two unearned runs. Mike (The Bear) Garcia was the starting and winning pitcher, earning victory number nine, but he had to have help from Al Benton to squelch a Philadelphia uprising in the ninth. The Athletics' rookie southpaw, Alex Kellner, was the victim.

Philadelphia scored in the first on a walk to Joost, a sacrifice by Wally Moses and a single by Elmer Valo.

In the second frame, Joost muffed Joe Gordon's grounder, and Majeski fumbled Johnny Berardino's roller, after Jim Hegan's single scored Gordon. In the fourth, Lou Boudreau singled and reached second as Gordon grounded out, went to third as Majeski booted Berardino's grounder and scored as Joost fumbled a bounding ball from the bat of Jim Hegan.

Philadelphia tied it up in the last of the fourth on a double by Sam Chapman and a single by Mike Guerra, but Cleveland turned the tide in the fifth on singles by Larry Doby, Mickey Vernon and Gordon.

Right Fielder Bob Kennedy pulled a groin muscle in chasing Chapman's double in the fourth, and probably will be out for the rest of the series here. Doby is expected to play in the right and Thurman Tucker in center today.

Galion Junior Team Wins 2 Legion Tilts

COLUMBUS — Galion — the team which got in on a pass—was still in the American Legion junior tournament here today, and scheduled to fight tough Cincinnati Budde Post this afternoon for the state title.

Regardless of how the Crawford county boys fare today, they have achieved the title of no worse than the state's second best team.

Galion's three - deep pitching staff has played a major part in the victories as it did yesterday when Galion beat Ironton, 14-6, in the morning and Columbus, 3-1, in the afternoon. Ray Seif hurled the morning game and North Robinson's Gene Pritchard the afternoon tilt. Bill Enders, the strong-armed little shortstop, who has already tossed two tournament victories, is ready to go in the finals today.

A loss for Galion this afternoon will end the tournament since the team has already been beaten once. A Galion victory will necessitate a second game immediately between the two clubs.

Boston Attack Sizzles With Kramer's Return

By JACK HAND
(AP Sports Writer)

Jack Kramer's return to 1948 form with a six-hit shutout for Boston may be the most important development in the American league race since Joe DiMaggio rejoined the New York Yankees.

Failure of handsome Jack to measure up to his brilliant 18-5 record of last year almost ruined the Red Sox in early season. Kramer lost six in a row until he finally broke the streak with relief help, July 24.

When Framer cooled off the Tigers, 9-0, he became the sixth straight Boston starter to go the route. Manager Joe McCarthy now has gone through his entire regular staff of Maurice McDermott, Mel Parnell, Chuck Stobbs, Ellis Kinder, Joe Dobson and Kramer without calling on the bullpen. In fact he has relieved in only two of the last 12 games.

Just as DiMaggio's return bolstered the league-leading Yanks in late June, Kramer could make the difference between a pennant and an also ran to the Red Sox. Dom DiMaggio contributed his bit with a double, hitting in his 32nd straight game. Vern Stephens bashed his 26th homer.

Arrival of the St. Louis Browns proved to be just the tonic the faltering Yanks needed. Casey Stengel's gang broke loose with their roughest batting attacks in weeks, sweeping a doubleheader, 10-2 and 10-5. DiMaggio and Tom Henrich homered for the Yanks in the opener while Yogi Berra and Charley Keller hit home runs in the second game.

Although Cleveland whipped Philadelphia, 3-2, in a night game, the tribe dropped back three full games behind the Yanks.

Mickey Haefner, fired by Washington for "indifferent performance" a month ago, returned with the Chicago White Sox to whip the Senators, 4-1, his first win in his new uniform. The little lefty went all the way, allowing only seven hits. Luke Appling, Sox vet, tied Rabbit by playing shortstop in 2,153 games. Luke got two hits.

Gerry (The Giant Killer) Staley, who holds four decisions over the New York Giants, kept St. Louis in the national league lead with a 1-0 verdict over Leo Durocher's Giants. Marty Marion drove home Stan Musial with the only run off Monte Kennedy in the sixth.

Brooklyn remained a half game behind the Red Birds with a 6-4 edge over Cincinnati, their sixth straight. A three-run outburst in the fifth broke a 2-2 tie and fractured Cincinnati's four-game winning string. Jack Robinson's double drove home two big runs off Howie Fox. He scored the third.

Shortstop Granny Hamner's error, permitting Ralph Kiner to score in the last of the ninth, enabled Pittsburgh to squeeze past Philadelphia, 1-0, in a tight duel between Bill Werle and schoolboy Rowe. Each allowed five hits.

The Boston Braves, gradually drifting out of the national league race, were given another shove by the last-place Chicago Cubs who battered Warren Spahn and three successors for 15 hits and an 8-3 edge. Hank Sauer's 23rd homer was included in the barrage. Jeff Heath hit a two-run homer as the Braves knocked out Doybie Lade in the first inning.

26 Luther Leaguers Will Attend Convention In Roanoke

Plan Tour Of Shrines In 3 States

Group Will Leave Saturday By Bus

A year-old dream of 26 Luther Leaguers of the St. Paul Lutheran church will be realized next Saturday when they leave by bus for Roanoke, Va., and other historical spots in the middle-eastern area.

Their itinerary will revolve around the national convention of Luther Leagues at Roanoke, which gets under way Monday, Aug. 15.

Accompanied by Rev. John G. Gensel, pastor of the church, Mr. and Mrs. James Melching, church members, and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Burghard of the Yellow Stripe Taxi company, the 26 teenagers will make their headquarters at the Ponce de Leon hotel in Roanoke.

A Bible study of the Philippians, with national leaders and speakers, will mark the convention program. On Wednesday, Aug. 17, the entire convention group of 1,000 Luther Leaguers will go to the Natural Bridge in Virginia for a picnic supper and devotional services.

Thursday night, Aug. 18, there will be a banquet in the ballroom of the Roanoke hotel. Rev. Fred Wigman, pastor of the Holy Trinity church at Akron, will be the speaker. During the convention sessions, a special session for intermediates will be held at Roanoke college, at nearby Salem, Va.

GO TO WASHINGTON

Following the convention, the Mansfield group will leave for Monticello on Friday, Aug. 19. and from there will travel part way up the Skyline drive to Luray, where they will visit the caverns, then start out for Washington, D. C.

A baseball game between the Washington Senators and the Boston Red Sox is on the calendar for the Washington stay.

Some famed Washington church will be selected for Sunday worship and on the following Monday they will head for Mt. Vernon and other historical places around the national capital, then start north for Annapolis and Baltimore and on to Gettysburg.

At Gettysburg, Rev. Gensel expects to point out the seminary where he was graduated and the famed battleground of the Civil War. The group will stay in Gettysburg Tuesday night, Aug. 23, leaving for Carlisle and the Pennsylvania Turnpike early Wednesday morning.

They are expected arrive home late Wednesday, Aug. 24.

The 26 teen-agers who have been saving their money for the past year include: Phillip Bottorf, Joyce Chamberlin, Edward Birmelin, Nanette Griffith, Eleanor, Lena Rose and Marjorie Holzworth, Phyllis McFarland, Elsie Hager. Armelia Greer, Roger Murray, Nancy. Natalie. Lynn and Carol Schneider, Paul and Frank Schulz. Richard and Donald Svenson, Robert Miller, Jack Eliot, Mary Ann Scott, Janice Young. Nova Pankow. Barbara Schaefer and Coral Schwan.

Each teen-ager has turned over to Rev. Gensel $40 for the trip. That amount will not cover expenses, so the remainder has been made up by the church and individual contributions. Rev. Gensel said.

Psalms Give Thanks to God

ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Alfred J. Buescher

Scripture—Psalms 92; 103; 136:1-9, 25, 26.

It is a good thing to give thanks unto the Lord, upon an instrument of strings. for Thou, O Lord, hast made me glad through Thy work.

Like as a father pitieth his children, so the Lord pitieth them that fear Him. For He knoweth our frame; He remembereth that we are dust.

As for man, his days are as grass, for the wind passeth over it and it is gone; but the mercy of the Lord endureth forever.

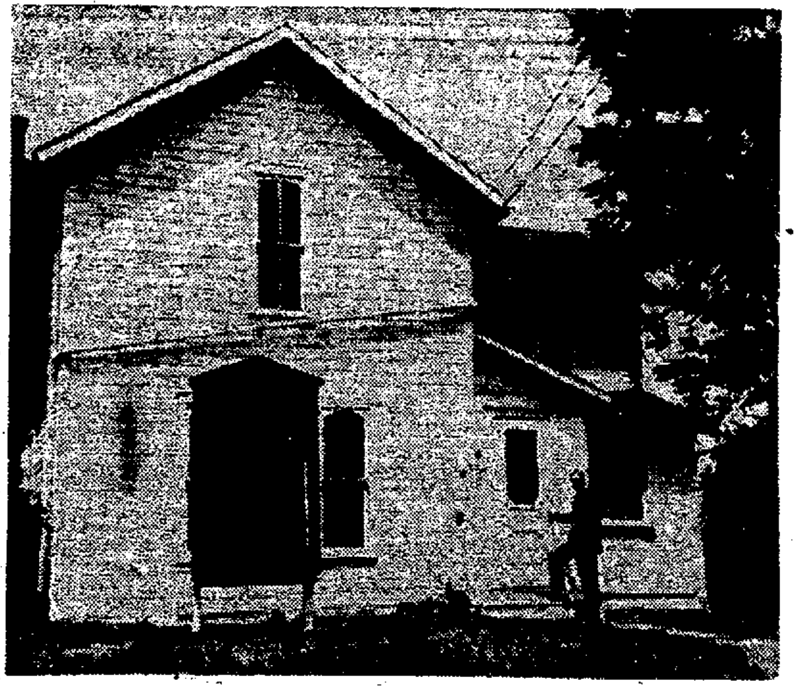
Distributed by King Features Syndicate

O give thanks unto the Lord; to Him that made the moon and stars to shine by night; His mercy endureth forever.
MEMORY VERSE—Psalm 92:1.

Pilgrim Building Under Way On Harker Street

Congregation Works 28 Years For New Church

VIEW NEW CHURCH SITE—The pastor and officials of the Pilgrim church look over the basement building which will house the 110 church members. Located at Louise avenue and Harker street, the auditorium and Sunday school rooms are being built at an estimated cost of $20,000. Shown, left to right, are William Dials, building committee chairman; Paul Freer and Rev Donald Martin, pastor.



PILGRIM CHURCH—Located at 322 Harker street. This house has served the congregation as a church home since 1922. It will be sold when members move into the new basement sanctuary at Harker street and Louise avenue.

By NITA BRANSON

Back in the early months of 1921 a group of northside residents, wishing to stress their interest in spreading the gospel and with a desire to join in Christian fellowship. met at each other's homes for worship.

Enthusiasm grew until they decided to form a new church. On Easter, April 17, 1922, fifty-seven signed the charter membership and the new religious organization became the Pilgrim church.

Charter members were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Freer, Mrs. Fern Clark, Mrs. Ira King, Miss Mae King and Mrs. Elizabeth Schroeder. They are still living and still active members of the church.

Shortly after the new church was organized, members began to plan a church home. Finally a house at 322 Harker street was purchased for $6,000 and transformed into a church auditorium and Sunday school rooms, the latter on the second floor.

The original membership grew to 110 and still they worshipped in the original location. But this spring, after considerable debate, they decided it was time to start a new church home. The lot at the corner of Louise avenue and Harker street, just four doors from their place of worship, was purchased and today they are well-started on a basement sanctuary.

"We should have started long ago," Mrs. Freer said, "but we put it off and have probably chosen the worst time. However, it is a good start."

The basement sanctuary will represent a total cash outlay of about $20,000, according to Rev. Donald Martin, who completed his first year as pastor in May.

MRS. MARTIN HELPS

Rev. Martin thinks he is particularly fortunate to be building a new church in his first pastorate. He is musician as well as pastor and expects to direct the choir when members move into the new church home. Mrs. Martin, an expert vibra-harp player, will contribute her music to each Sunday service.

Names familiar in north-end activities were among the first members who signed the charter and who served as the first-trustees and advisers of that group 27 years ago. Such names as Foster Dice, Terrell Eyerly, Fred Enlow, Will Yarger and Ira King comprised the board of trustees with Thomas E. Taylor and George Wysor as advisers. Mrs. Clark was the first church secretary.

The first Sunday school superintendent was M. D. Ropp, now with his family in Altadena, Calif. The first pastor was Rev. Harold Johnson.

He has been succeeded by Virgil Kirkpatrick, who acted as supply during his student years and who is now a missionary in Africa; Rev. J. W. Gwynn, Rev. D. W. Cox, Rev. Ralph Zundel, who served two different terms, Rev. Roscoe Stull, who later became a missionary to Peru, and Rev. H. P. Bennett, who immediately preceded Rev. Martin.

At least five members have gone out of the church for more extensive missionary work and broader Christian training. They include Rev. and Mrs. Kirkpatrick, Mrs. Doris Radovich Davis, Don Hall, who is studying for the ministry at Ashbury college, Ashbury, Ky., and Miss Lucille Leicy who is studying Christian work at the Pasadena college, Pasadena, Calif. The church helps support the Kirkpatricks.

BUILD ENTRANCE

The basement church will be 44 by 60 feet with an additional room of 12 feet to house the furnace at the rear. Although worship and Sunday school will be confined to the lower floor for sometime yet, the entrance will be built up to represent the tower facade of a church, with doors both on Louise avenue and Harker street.

Included in the lay-out will be the main auditorium, with large and small Sunday school rooms, two rest rooms and the pastor's study, which will be used as Sunday school quarters if necessary.

Attendance at the weekly Sunday school sessions averages almost as much as the church membership, closely crowding 100 each Sunday.

Building plans have been under the supervision of William Dials, chairman of the building committee. A cornerstone is being donated by the L. R. McGinty and Son Monument company and an electric clock by the Rogers Jewelry firm.

Present officers include: Paul Freer jr., president of the Young People's society and Mrs. Freer, head of the Woman's Missionary group. It seems, Mrs. Freer agreed laughing, to be a Freer year.

Present deacons include F. N. Wachs. Lawrence Brown, who is also church treasurer; William Dials, secretary-clerk, and Ralph Rorick. Trustees are Howard McLaughlin. Freer, Paul Freer jr., and Glen Heinberger. Donn Wachs is financial secretary.

Although no definite plans can yet be made for the church dedication, it is expected to be completed some time in October.

Church In Shiloh To Share Estate

Mrs. Flora M. Swanger, who died July 21, left $200 to the Methodist Episcopal church at Shiloh, her will on file in probate court showed today.

The balance of her estate, estimated at $12,500, was left to her son, Attorney Glenn W. Marriott of Mansfield, and her daughter, Mrs. Mildred BeVier, of near Shelby. Mrs. Swanger lived in Shelby.

Student Will Conduct Grace Episcopal Service

During the absence of Rev. Samuel U. J. Peard, rector of Grace Episcopal church, lay reader Robert E. Schrack will conduct the service of morning prayer at 11 a. m. only.

ROBERT E. SCHRACK

Schrack, a former choir boy and a member of the church, is now studying at the University of Virginia in preparation for the study of ministry at the Virginia Theological Seminary later.

Schrack will enter his third year at the university in the fall. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Schrack, West Fourth street.

Rev. Peard with Mrs. Peard and their son, Richard, are vacationing in Williamsport, Pa. He will return for services on Sept. 4.

New Nazarene Pastor Decided On Ministry When He Was 14

From salesman to minister is the experience of Rev. Warren Rood, new pastor of the Church of the Nazarene, Reba avenue.

REV. WARREN ROOD

One led to the other because from the time he was 14, he knew he was going to be a preacher. Because of his mother's continued illness he didn't have funds for the study of the ministry. So Rev. Rood worked as a furniture and appliance salesman until he had enough to start his training at the former Kingswood college, Kingswood, Ky. From there he went on to Bethany Peniel college, in Bethany, Okla.

Rev. Rood is a Kansas native and has traveled extensively. He was ordained into the ministry in 1942 at Kelso, Wash., and it was there that he developd his love of big game hunting.

He's afraid his hunting may be curtailed in Mansfield.

"I guess there's no place around here to hunt," he said smiling.

Rev. Rood will fill the ministerial shoes of Rev. A. H. Perry who has retired and moved to Des Moines, Iowa. He and Mrs. Rood and their 13-year-old son have taken over the new parsonage, occupied for the first time just a little over a year ago.

Rev. Rood's first charge was at the East Side Church of the Nazarene, Oklahoma City, Okla., and his last, just before coming to Mansfield, at Fostoria. O.

Rev. Rood and his family moved into the parsonage Tuesday.

In addition to his pastoral duties. Rev. Rood is district director of boys and girls work for the Central Ohio district of the Nazarene church. Next week, he will go to Columbus where he will conduct camp for boys and girls for two weeks.

Pastor To Preach Series On Parables

During the remainder of the month of August and the first Sunday in September, Rev. Charles W. Stoneburner will preach on the theme, "He Spake to Them in Parables."

His sermon subject for tomorrow morning, is "Making Good Use of What we Have" based on the Scripture passage in St. Matthew 25:14. This is the parable concerning the talents.

2 Women Injured In Crestline Crash

CRESTLINE — Two women were injured when autos in which they were riding collided at Main and North Seltzer streets Thursday afternoon. Both cars were damaged badly.

Miss Margaret Henkle, of Chicago, received an ankle injury while Miss Frances Hurson, of Crestline, suffered head and arm injuries. Miss Henkle and her brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. William Henkle, were returning to Chicago from a trip to Bermuda.
